ABDUCTORS IN CALIFORNIA ASK $75,000 RANSOM

Gang Wants That Amount Before Freeing William F. Gettle, Millionaire Oil Man of Beverly Hills, Attorney For Mrs. Gettle Informed Over Telephone

Lawyer Makes Unexplained Trip

Associated Press
Los Angeles, May 11.—A ransom of $75,000 has been demanded for release of William F. Gettle, kidnapped Beverly Hills millionaire, the district attorney's office announced today.
Ernest E. Noon, attorney for Mrs. Gettle, informed District Attorney Byron Pitts he had received a telephone call "from a party who informed him they had Gettle alive and wanted $75,000 ransom."
Shortly after the call Noon suddenly left his office. Whether he had the ransom money with him was not revealed.
Noon was engaged yesterday by the distraught wife to deal independently with the abductors.

WOMAN DETAINED

Twenty-four hours after Gettle vanished from his $50,000 Arcadia estate in the hands of two masked kidnapers, the sheriff's office struck on its first concrete development early today, the detention of a woman whose statements caused one of the search leaders to say the crime might be solved "within five hours." The woman, described as a brunette about thirty years of age, plump and

As his favorite horse His Majesty rode about the bridle paths of the park almost unnoticed.

Announcement on Geneva Session Made After Conference Between Chairman Henderson and French Foreign Minister

Canadian Press From Havas
Paris, May 11.—Convocation of the League of Nations Disarmament Conference in Geneva May 29 was agreed on today by Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, president of the conference, and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou. They also decided the steering committee of the conference should meet on the previous day to prepare the agenda of the conference.

Following a long conference yesterday Mr. Henderson and M. Barthou, accompanied by their advisers, met again today at the Foreign Office, and after Mr. Henderson had left for London to acquaint the British cabinet with the views of the French government, the following communiqué was issued:
"Louis Barthou, Foreign Minister, and Arthur Henderson, president of the Conference for the Reduction or Limitation of Armaments, continued this morning in the same cordial spirit the exchange of views begun yesterday."

"They were in agreement on the necessity of summoning the conference to meet on May 29, the date previously but tentatively fixed by the steering committee. The steering committee will meet on the eve of the conference for a preparatory conference."

STRATOSPHERIST GOES TO ORIENT

Seattle, May 11.—En route to Yokohama for duty with the Asiatic fleet, Lieut.-Commander Thomas C. W. Settle, who made a balloon ascension of more than eleven and a half miles into the stratosphere last November at Akron with Major Chester L. Fordy, arrived here today.
He said he had requested foreign duty and that while he has no plans for stratosphere ascensions or balloon races he hopes to take part in some again. With him are Mrs. Settle and their five-year-old son, Tommy.

IDLE DEMAND MORE RELIEF

Shelter Allowance in Dispute as Saanich Workless See Reeve

When the provincial government undertakes to recognize taxes and interest on mortgages as shelter allowances, they will be paid to Saanich home owners on relief, as from May 1, Reeve William Crouch this morning told a deputation from unemployed of the municipality.
For most of this morning a delegation of about forty men presented themselves at the Royal Oak Hall, demanding to see the reeve. The reeve told them he was willing to interview three of their members who were bona fides recipients of relief.
A few minutes later a trio was selected, but the reeve refused them admission because one was not on relief.
The delegation withdrew, whereupon the reeve addressed the massed gathering. He told them that unless they made up their minds to have a delegation of three relief men see him, he would withdraw from the hall and leave immediately within fifteen minutes.
"I have been placed at the head of this municipality, and I intend to hold the reins of administration until the measure to assist farmers in my responsibilities," said the reeve.

The delegation then selected its representatives, who were the following:

Buick Works at Flint, Mich., Idle While Body Builders on Strike

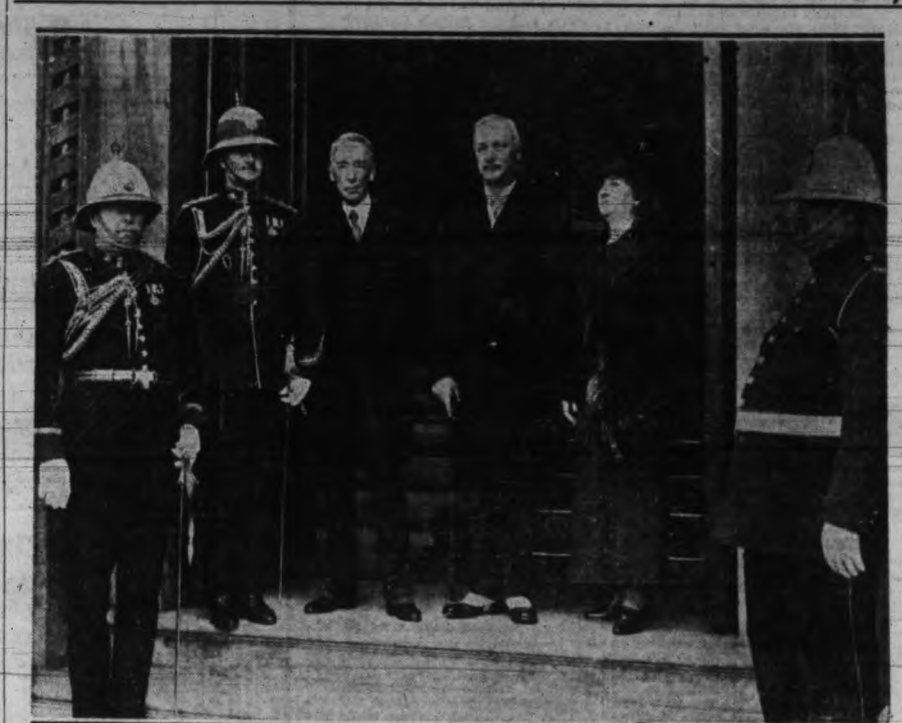

Associated Press
Flint, Mich., May 11.—The Buick Motor Company plant closed here today, close on the heels of a walk-out of union employees. In the Fisher Body Corporation No. 1 plant, which makes Buick bodies, fourteen thousand Buick employees, and an estimated 5,000 Fisher employees were idle.
It was learned from reliable sources the plant will remain closed until Tuesday. By that time, it is expected the Fisher strike will be settled.
The Fisher union workmen walked out Tuesday and union leaders said fewer than 100 men returned to work today.

U.S. Golfers Take Decisive Lead In Walker Cup Series

Capture Three Out of Four Matches From British Amateurs in Foursomes at St. Andrews; Eric McRuvie and Jack McLean Score Lone British Victory

Singles Will Be Played To-morrow

Canadian Press and Associated Press
St. Andrews, Scotland, May 11.—The first venture of United States golfers in the 1934 international campaign was crowned with success today as the United States Walker Cup foursome won three out of four matches on the opening day of two days of play. Singles matches will be played to-morrow. All matches today were over thirty-six holes.
Johnny Goodman, young U.S. open champion, and his stocky, square-shouldered partner, W. Lawson Little, made a runaway of their match with the crack British team, Roger Wethered and Cyril Tolley, winning 8 and 6.
Eric McRuvie and Jack McLean were the lone Britons to vanquish their opposition. They beat Francis Ouimet, captain of the invading forces, and George T. Dunlap, United States amateur titleholder, 4 and 2. The winners were on top throughout.
Other U.S. victories were scored by sixty-year-old H. Chandler Egan and Max Marston, who defeated Hon. Michael Scott, British captain, and Sam McKinley, 3 and 2, and Gus Moreland and Jack Westland, who conquered Harry Bentley and Eric Fiddian, 6 and 5.
The youthful American combination of Goodman and Little ran up a commanding lead of eight holes over Tolley and Wethered, which they fourfolded pair at the end of the day.

DOUKHOBORS GET BIG LOAN IN U.S.

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, May 11.—Peter Verigin, at a conference here today, completed negotiations for a loan of $800,000 by United States capitalists to the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, which in return will give a mortgage on all its lands, properties, crops and chattels in Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

WHEAT PRICES SHOW LOSS

After Early Strength, Figures at Winnipeg Have Net Drop of 2 to 2 1-4 Cents

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, May 11.—Reacting sharply after early peak levels, prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange toppled today for net losses of 2 to 2 1-4 cents. The decline, interpreted as a natural setback after brisk advances of Tuesday and Thursday, carried May wheat back to 69 1/2, July to 70 1/2, and October to 72 1/2.
Bullish weather conditions had little influence on the market as traders hastened to gather in profits. The government agency, too, was on the selling side. A five-hour rainfall in southeastern Alberta was an exception to the dreary weather picture. Cash grain was soft and the coarse grain division followed wheat to lower levels.
AT CHICAGO
Chicago, May 11.—The wheat market here took a sudden drop at the close today, carrying prices down more than a cent below the early high figures and almost 2 cents under yesterday's finish. A wave of profit-taking settled over the pit just before the session ended as traders capitalized on the advance of 17 cents a bushel in wheat since April 25.
Prices of wheat at the close were 1 1/2 to 2 cents lower, with July at 87 1/2 cents. Corn and oats were off almost 2 cents and rye lost as much as 4 cents.
Chicago, May 11.—(Associated Press)—Apprehension over crop prospects of the United States middle west grew hourly today.
Furched prairies and plains, long baked by a hot sun and swept by swirling, choking "black blizzards" of dust, today were a grim picture.

DOLLAR FIRM ON EXCHANGE

Canadian Press
New York, May 11.—Sterling firmed fractionally on the foreign exchange markets here today. The pound closed at $5.11 1/2, up 1/4 cent. The Canadian dollar finished at a premium of 8-16 of a cent, and the French franc at 6.61 1/2 cents, both unchanged.

BRITAIN TO HAVE STRONG AIR DEFENCE

WHEAT TALKS ARE HALTED

No Price Agreement; London World Conference Adjourns Until June 27

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, May 11.—The World Wheat Conference today adjourned until June 27, failing to get agreement that would permit putting into effect a minimum wheat price agreement in the near future.
The conference had been marking time all week awaiting complete governmental replies to the scheme and a revision of it drawn up yesterday, but it was indicated as the delegates reassembled failure of the Argentine delegation to agree to the scheme would prevent its going into effect in the near future at least.
A Russian delegate said his government approved a minimum wheat price, "We appreciate the scheme, but we have a minimum price scheme without quota limitations," he added, saying that for that reason settlement of the long-discussed quota issue between Russia and the big wheat exporters would be achieved.

B.C. BERRIES SHIPPED GREEN

Early Product Cannot Compete With Washington Berries on Prairie Market

Practice of B.C. strawberry growers in shipping green berries to the prairies, hoping they will ripen in transit and compete with Washington-grown berries, has worked out to the detriment of the B.C. product again this year, according to advice today received by J. A. Grant, Market Branch Commissioner under Dr. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture.
At the same time berries from the early district of Kennewick in Washington are arriving in fine condition, fetching a price of 85 a crate, although the demand is only fair.
The early berries from British Columbia mainly come from mainland growers. Island shipments are not affected this way.

Views Differ On Wheat Grading

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 11.—A difference of opinion between two members of the cabinet on the desirability of separate grades for Garret wheat developed today at the sitting of the Commons agricultural committee. Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, favored the proposal, while Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, said careful study should be given before the step was taken.

France Ready To Swoop In Orient At First Sign Of Partition Of China

Japan has just sounded her sharp warning to the world to stop interfering in Chinese affairs, and allow her to run the whole show. On the south of China, however, not saying much but working hard, stand the French. They plan to extend their French Indo-China, standing thus at the Chinese gate, they are poised to snatch more spoils the moment that the partition of China gets under way as a result of the pressure from the Japanese in the north.

William Phillips Simms, the famed international correspondent, who is now in the Orient studying developments, has written about this in another article in the series. It will be published as a feature of the Magazine Section of The Victoria Daily Times to-morrow.
Other features of the Saturday Magazine Section will include: Boris Karloff, famed film star, worked in British Columbia mills as plain Bill Pratt.

MINING AID IS LIMITED

Only Experienced Prospectors Given Advances So Far By Government

Only men who are known and experienced prospectors have been assisted by the government, through its relief agencies, to undertake prospecting trips, so far, government officials said today.
The scheme has not extended beyond advancing a man the allowance he would receive in the way of relief, so that he is not tied down to getting his allowance weekly in one place. Where a relief officer is satisfied a man really desires to go into the hills and search for minerals, he may be given two months' relief supplies on which to work.
The whole object of the plan is to aid men to become self-supporting, but great care is being taken that the government does not finance those who do not seriously plan to prospect.

SIMON HEARD ON U.S. DEBT

Argument Britain Can Pay Because of Budget Surplus Described as "Fallacious"

Canadian Press
London, May 11.—The argument Britain was able to pay her huge war debts to the United States simply because she happened to have a budget surplus was described as fallacious by Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, today.
While London and other leading newspapers criticized as unfair any suggestion the United Kingdom may be considered in default of her war debt payments, Sir John referred to the question during a speech at Manchester.
Sir John declared he was not speaking for the government, but for himself. He said world trade could stand the transfer of huge sums of money.

HOUSE OF LORDS REFORM

CAMPAIGN FUND ATTEMPT REPORTED

Macdonald Tobacco Company Head Tells Commons Committee Conservatives Wanted Money From Firm in 1930

Ottawa, May 11.—The Stevens committee of the Commons inquiry into business practices, had before it today a statement that the W. C. Macdonald Tobacco Company of Montreal was asked to donate money to the Conservative campaign funds in the 1930 federal election.
It was so informed at its sitting yesterday afternoon by Walter M. Stewart, president of the company.
Questioned by W. M. Kennedy, Conservative member for Winnipeg South Centre, Mr. Stewart said that as far as he could remember, he had never been asked to contribute money to the Conservative campaign funds.

The committee adjourned to meet next Monday.
Naming Ward Pittfield of Montreal, a man close to the present Prime Minister, as the solicitor, the tobacco manufacturer yesterday afternoon said he was left with the impression a contribution to the Conservatives would be interpreted as meaning he wanted excise duties on cigarettes reduced. It was inferred, he said, that other tobacco manufacturers had donated, but he refused to "chip in."

TAX INFORMATION
But the tall, dark haired tobacco president, head of the second largest plant in Canada, went further. He said at least one of his competitors had advanced information when the excise tax was reduced from 55 to 54 in 1932, and stopped manufacturing cigarettes in anticipation. He said

Seasonal Increases in California Together With Rail Charges Would Cause Big Boost in Prices

Vancouver Men Will Not Work Freighter

Refuse to Handle Seattle Cargo at That Port; College Students May Work Ss. Santa Rosa in Seattle

The longshoremen's strike at Pacific Coast ports of the United States may have a serious effect on the local fruit and vegetable market, as shippers in California prepared today to have their products moved to the northwest by rail, a much more expensive way of shipping than by sea. If the strike continues—and there is every indication it will—and fruit and vegetables are shipped overland, the prices here will be increased considerably.
Oranges, lemons and grapefruit are expected to rise almost fifty cents a case. Lemons are already up seventy-five cents a case in California and Imperial Valley and Arizona grapefruit are becoming scarce in Victoria. Oranges will probably advance from twenty-five to thirty-five cents a case to-morrow in California. Prices are up seasonally in California at this time and by the time the fruit and vegetables reach Victoria, if they are shipped by rail, the prices on them will be higher than for many years. There is little possibility of Seattle-bound ships discharging their cargoes here, or of local longshoremen joining the strike that at present is crippling ports from Seattle to San Diego. Vancouver longshoremen will take a strike vote to-morrow, but even if the vote goes in favor of a strike it will not necessarily mean a walk-out immediately. Victoria dock workers will not be affected by the mainland verdict as the local union is not connected with the one in Vancouver.

VANCOUVER BALKS

There was some talk yesterday of discharging Seattle cargoes at Vancouver, and sending them to Puget Sound ports by rail, but leaders of the longshoremen's union in Vancouver stated union men would refuse to handle ships that ordinarily would discharge their freight at Seattle or Tacoma.
This question was brought to a head this morning when Vancouver

RECOMMENDATION PLAN WIDENED

Students in Country Schools to Get Benefit of Entrance Promotion System

Several hundred pupils in entrance class in British Columbia schools may be promoted to high school this year without the necessity of writing the regular examinations, as the result of an extension of the recommendation system put into effect by the Council of Public Instruction. The plan will operate for the first time this year, and is applicable in all schools where there are high schools. Up to the present time entrance pupils in these districts have been compelled to write the entrance exams to determine whether they are fit for high school. In districts where there are high schools, certain pupils may be recommended at the discretion of a committee consisting of the school principal, the high school principal and the school inspector.
Under the extension of the system now going into effect, the work of pupils in entrance will be reviewed by the school principal and the inspector, who will then make the recommendations if it is thought fit.
Dr. S. J. Willis, Superintendent of Education, explained these new recommendations will be allowed only in schools that have a high standing, and where the principal is a teacher of considerable experience. Several dozen schools in the province will be affected.

CONGREGATION ADDRESS

B. C. Nicholas, editor of The Victoria Times, who delivered the congregation address, was introduced by President L. S. Klink as a long-standing friend to education.

It was to prepare the younger generations for the work of reconstruction and reconstruction, that schools, colleges and universities were maintained, said Mr. Nicholas. All this was common sense, but it seemed to escape those who declared that there was too much education in the world. The record of the last twenty-five years had shown that, in general, society was under-educated, in the real sense of education, that the collective mentality of humanity was below par, and that there could not be too much education of the most effective kind, properly adjusted to changing human requirements and human problems. The adequate preparation of youth for the pressing responsibilities intended by it was an imperative obligation of these times, and too much money could not be devoted to that purpose.

NEW THINKING

The speaker humorously described the estimates of youth in various quarters, referring especially to the "curious discovery" that youth was thinking hard, by some publicists and public leaders who want to know, rather than to know, what is thinking about. This, Mr. Nicholas said, was a very ancient discovery. Youth was expected to think not only hard but, he hoped, honestly, intelligently, independently and courageously. The troubles with the world were due largely to the fact that there had been too little thinking of that kind.

WIDESPREAD CHANGES

While discounting the probability of a new heaven and a new earth arising presently out of the depression, the speaker looked for "widespread reforms and changes" in many directions, affecting human relationships and aspirations. He likened the "prophets of gloom," and reminded the graduates that there would still be an undiminished scope for the useful exercise of their talents, energies and the training they had received in the university.

NATION BUILDING

This was particularly true in Canada, which was unique among the countries of the world in the sense that it was essentially a pioneering proposition, and that unless human progress remained constant with its present limits—which it would not do—there was a big job ahead of Canadian youth in nation building. The real accurate typification of this Dominion would be found—for many years—not in the metropolitan centres, but in the small towns of the frontier. There would be

INSULL GIVES BAIL BONDS

Freed From Federal Custody at Chicago, But State Serves Warrants

Associated Press

Chicago, May 11.—Samuel Insull was freed from custody of the federal Government to-day on $200,000 supplied by a surety company after he had declined to plead guilty or not guilty to the indictment that charged him of fraudulent use of the mails and violating the bankruptcy laws.

Seized by deputy sheriffs of Cook County and held until the longshoremen's strike in the United States Pacific Coast ports has been settled, in order to permit the ship to proceed to Hawaii, where she is to load full for the Atlantic coast.

Longshoremen leaders in Vancouver, however, have decided to do nothing tending to interfere with the strike in United States ports. The leaders were said to have ordered the men off the ship.

No action has been taken so far by the shipping company.

At most of the ports union longshoremen are unloading mail and baggage, but are refusing to load or discharge cargo.

The S. Santa Rosa, which arrived here this morning from San Francisco, had her cargo loaded on Tuesday afternoon, the day before the strike went into effect.

Victorians listening to Portland radio stations yesterday evening heard the police department of that city sending out for "able-bodied men." Three hundred were needed in all, the messages stated. There was considerable fighting in Portland yesterday between strikers and non-union workers.

Seattle, May 11.—With increased gangs working at three terminals, cargo is moving over Seattle wharves in increased volume to-day as the longshoremen's strike went into its third day. The liner Ruth Alexander, which arrived this morning from California ports, was being discharged by seventy-five men and about the same number were loading the S. Santa Rosa, in port this afternoon from San Francisco.

The Pacific Lighterage Company said it had obtained 150 men and would employ 100 more to-morrow for other ships.

San Francisco, May 11.—The government may be forced to intervene in the strike of Pacific Coast longshoremen unless a settlement is reached soon, Charles A. Reynolds of Seattle, a member of the Mediation Board, declared to-day.

The public should not be forced to suffer, said Reynolds, pointing out that his opinion was a personal one and not that of the collective Board of Mediation.

Meanwhile strike lines tightened at Portland while waterfront employers in other Pacific Coast ports sought to recruit men to take the place of the longshoremen. More than 100 special officers were engaged by Portland police, and three longshoremen were arrested for causing a disturbance in which one policeman was attacked. The employers said they were unable to get recruits to work the ships. The strikers in San Francisco staged their daily parade along the waterfront, and a number of minor scuffles with the men.

"All the unions are with us and we are going to win," said a spokesman for William J. Lewis, district president of the International Longshoremen's Association.

At Los Angeles, the police guard was increased to forty men, and the move was a precautionary measure against a possible riot. A picketing line of about 100 men was seen on the waterfront.

Six policemen at San Diego kept 100 longshoremen at a distance from the piers and a squad of officers was held in readiness in the event of trouble.

DUST IN AIR

Whipped by strong winds, dust clouds from western Canada swept across the border Thursday, befogging the entire area from Montana on the west, Texas on the south and the Ohio valley on the east.

Airplane service between Chicago and St. Paul was interrupted. Pilots reported the dust particles as high as 10,000 feet, and sweeping eastward at rates of sixty to 100 miles an hour.

Experts said the "black blizzards" were without precedent in intensity and the area involved within the last twenty-eight days—and in Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, were regarded as of little value.

DUST IN ONTARIO

Toronto, May 11.—Dust storms of varying intensity were reported overnight from six points in Ontario as dust clouds from the United States drifted into the air and sent it flying across hundreds of miles of territory.

Sault Ste. Marie reported the sun obscured by an early dust storm which rendered the atmosphere stifling. Rain fell thereafter, plastering the streets with mud.

Stratford reported the sun obscured and citizens made uncomfortable by the sand. At St. Thomas it left a film over farm crops and streets.

FOOD ENOUGH

Washington, May 11.—The United States farm officials, with an apprehensive eye on the drought-seared Midwest, conceded a "highly abnormal" crop situation to-day, but asserted the still should be enough food to go around.

Latest official figures, taking no account of the havoc caused by heat, wind and lack of rain in the last ten days, related, even on the basis of previous conditions, that crops would be the worst in years.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace pointed out, however, the forecast of a winter wheat crop of only 461,371,000 bushels would find a possible carryover of 247,000,000 bushels.

"If we should have a succession of drought years, we would want to be sure that we had an agricultural programme sufficiently flexible so that the farmers of the United States would not only be assured of food themselves, but also be sure of providing an adequate supply for the people of this country who depend on them for food," he said.

NO QUOTA "LOAN" It was learned the Argentine delegates had been refused the suggested loan of 20,000,000 bushels of their export allowances by the other three big exporters.

Argentina, with a bumper crop, has already used up more than 90,000,000 bushels out of her quota of 100,000,000 and indications are she will exceed her quota by 20,000,000 bushels at the present rate.

In addition, it was surmised that among the big importing nations Britain might have expressed reluctance to join the grain trade made outside the conference by Sir Herbert Robinson, British delegate, and head of the London Grain Exchange.

Experts said the "black blizzards" were without precedent in intensity and the area involved within the last twenty-eight days—and in Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, were regarded as of little value.

DUST IN ONTARIO

Toronto, May 11.—Dust storms of varying intensity were reported overnight from six points in Ontario as dust clouds from the United States drifted into the air and sent it flying across hundreds of miles of territory.

Sault Ste. Marie reported the sun obscured by an early dust storm which rendered the atmosphere stifling. Rain fell thereafter, plastering the streets with mud.

Stratford reported the sun obscured and citizens made uncomfortable by the sand. At St. Thomas it left a film over farm crops and streets.

FOOD ENOUGH

Washington, May 11.—The United States farm officials, with an apprehensive eye on the drought-seared Midwest, conceded a "highly abnormal" crop situation to-day, but asserted the still should be enough food to go around.

Latest official figures, taking no account of the havoc caused by heat, wind and lack of rain in the last ten days, related, even on the basis of previous conditions, that crops would be the worst in years.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace pointed out, however, the forecast of a winter wheat crop of only 461,371,000 bushels would find a possible carryover of 247,000,000 bushels.

"If we should have a succession of drought years, we would want to be sure that we had an agricultural programme sufficiently flexible so that the farmers of the United States would not only be assured of food themselves, but also be sure of providing an adequate supply for the people of this country who depend on them for food," he said.

NO QUOTA "LOAN" It was learned the Argentine delegates had been refused the suggested loan of 20,000,000 bushels of their export allowances by the other three big exporters.

Argentina, with a bumper crop, has already used up more than 90,000,000 bushels out of her quota of 100,000,000 and indications are she will exceed her quota by 20,000,000 bushels at the present rate.

In addition, it was surmised that among the big importing nations Britain might have expressed reluctance to join the grain trade made outside the conference by Sir Herbert Robinson, British delegate, and head of the London Grain Exchange.

Hon. Wells Gray Says Premier and Ministers Did Not Go to Ottawa Begging

Canadian Press

New Westminster, May 11.—The British Columbia delegation went to Ottawa, not with a begging proposition, but to ask for justice for the province, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands and Acting Premier, declared in an address to the Junior Board of Trade here yesterday evening.

Mr. Gray said the business of this province would be run by British Columbia, and for British Columbia.

With reference to unemployment, he said that "not 15 cents worth of brains has been put into the question of solving unemployment in Canada. It has been a question of drifting along, hoping next year would show some improvement."

"It will break every municipality and every province in Canada if the present system of drifting is continued."

Westminster is better off probably than any other city in the province because a certain amount of common sense has been used by its council in connection with relief work.

He explained that as soon as New Westminster had the authority, it insisted on work in return for relief allowances. "A dollar without work would ruin any system, he said."

CONTRAST SEEN Mr. Gray contrasted the federal relief programme in Canada with that of the United States. He said he recently visited Seattle, where an extensive federal programme had helped to put large numbers of unemployed back to work at their own employment.

He referred to large amounts of money collected by the Dominion Government from British Columbia and claimed the returns had been inadequate.

In the five-year period starting in 1926, he said the federal government had collected $108,000,000, yet this province received back only $9,700,000 in grants.

On the question of taxation, Mr. Gray said it was time for a "show-down" as to what fields belonged to the Dominion, province and municipalities because land alone could not continue to carry the burden.

BOY REPORTED MISSING HERE

Arthur Longfield, thirteen-year-old son of Jesse Longfield, 658 Battery Street, has been reported missing since 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, according to a police bulletin filed yesterday. When last seen the lad was wearing dark blue corduroy pants, a grey flannel shirt, a navy blue jacket and no hat. He has fair hair and anyone seeing him is requested to get in touch with the City Police.

GROUP SAILS FOR B.C. TRIP

Canadian Press

New York, May 11.—Embarked on the first stage of their trip into the unexplored regions of northern British Columbia, the principals of the Bedouin expedition, Charles E. Bedaux, Mrs. Bedaux, Mme. Alberto Chiesse of Switzerland, mountaineer and big game hunter; M. C. Balourdet, chemist, and John Chisholm, scientist, were aboard the S. Europa on the sea to-day, according to a wireless message received by Bedaux's office here.

The party's schedule to arrive in New York from Paris Monday and within a few days will leave for the expedition's first base at Edmonton. Equipment and supplies are being assembled there for the 1,100-mile trek to Telegraph Creek, B.C.

Advance parties are already on the trail. The first expedition of thirty persons, seventy-five horses, five caterpillar tractor motor cars, an amphibious plane and several river boats will be engaged in an attempt to force passage through an unknown area of 15,000 square miles of swamps and timbered land in northern British Columbia.

THREATEN TO BOMB CAPITAL

Associated Press

La Paz, Bolivia, May 11.—Bolivia threatened to-day to bombard Asuncion, capital of Paraguay, from war planes.

In a statement reviewing reports of mistreatment of Bolivian soldiers in Paraguayan prison camps in the Gran Chaco, the Bolivian government said: "In these international conferences no single nation can impose its will on the rest. It has to persuade, and if that fails the agreement striven for cannot be made."

DIED AT NANAIMO

Associated Press

Nanaimo, May 11.—The death occurred at the residence of his father-in-law, Alderman George Cavaly, Esplanade, early to-day, of Edward Elliott, resident of Victoria, B.C. Mr. Elliott had a heart attack yesterday, recovered and went to bed this morning. Mr. Elliott was forty-nine years old and was born in Ontario. He is survived by his widow, one son, George, one daughter, Laura, and relatives in Alberta and Ontario. Funeral arrangements are pending.

money without a corresponding balance.

"It is an injury to world trade and world recovery, if we are to contemplate the transfer of enormous quantities which we indeed receive in the form of goods, but which we are asked to pay back in the form of money," he said.

"IRRESPONSIBLE"

There seemed to be some comment on the other side of the Atlantic—"irresponsible ones"—who entirely overlooked the fact any argument for British payment based on the fact Britain at present had a budget surplus was entirely fallacious as far as the United States debt was concerned, the Foreign Secretary added.

"First, because that which lies at the back of the difficulty in connection with those vast international payments is not the question as to whether a particular country has a budget surplus. It was a question of international transfers which could not be accomplished without disruption of trade, he said.

"Second, it must be borne in mind that, in relation to the national wealth, British taxation last year was at least twice as heavy as the corresponding taxation in the United States."

OUTLOOK FOR WHEAT "FAIR"

Judging Entirely From Moisture Conditions, Forecast of Prairie Crop Made

Canadian Press
Toronto, May 11.—The early spring barometer by which farmers hope to be able to judge the size of the wheat crop says 1934 will give the Canadian prairie farmers more wheat than last year and less than they harvested in 1932. Judged entirely from moisture conditions, the prospects for this season are "fair."

A good part of the prairies finds itself with better supply of soil moisture than at this time last year. Dominion Meteorological Bureau records indicate that unless there is a summertime drought, the crop should total better than the lean 251,000,000 bushels of 1933. Winter precipitation has generally been better than last year.

The west took in 428,000,000 bushels in 1932. That year winter rainfall was more plentiful in nearly all regions. There was less early-season danger of soil drifting and a generous supply of rain in the growing season.

NEXT SIX WEEKS
The rains that will fall, or not fall, during the next six weeks will determine whether this young crop is on its way to great things or not.

Alberta's Peace River country is the only territory that has seen any prolonged period of drought. In that section the winter rainfall was 48 per cent above normal compared with 13 per cent last year and 18 per cent in 1932.

Even in northern Saskatchewan, where crop prospects are regarded as bright, winter precipitation was only 18 per cent above normal. In 1932 it was 20 per cent and last year 5 per cent.

This table shows the percentage of increase over normal in the various prairie districts for the last three winters.

ASK GREATER COAL SUBSIDY
Ottawa, May 11.—The government looks on the representations of Alberta and British Columbia coal producers for increased subsidies as "not unreasonable," it was learned authoritatively today.

A delegation, headed by Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta and representatives of the soft coal producers of Alberta and eastern British Columbia spent several days in Ottawa interviewing the Prime Minister and officials of the Department of Mines, seeking haulage subsidies on exactly the same basis as those paid the Nova Scotia producers shipping to central Canada. This would mean a considerable increase for the westerners because of the long haul to market.

BIGGER MARKET FOR BARLEY
Ontario Brewer Points to Canada's Opportunities in Great Britain
Canadian Press
Montreal, May 11.—Impetus given empire trade in recent years has enhanced the possibilities for export of Canadian barley to Great Britain and production of high quality malting barley by Canadian agriculturists for use by old country brewers offers a rich industry for Canada, A. F. Munroville, Ont., brewer, had stated here today.

Acres for barley suitable for malting is extremely low in Canada at the present time, Mr. Mackenzie pointed out. Not much over 5 per cent of the total crop has been classified as suitable for malting. In 1931, he stated, the United Kingdom imported 771,150 tons of barley, only 51,150 tons of which came from Canada.

HOUSING PLAN IN MONTREAL

New Scheme Calls For Expenditure of $104,000,000; To Banish Unemployment

Canadian Press
Montreal, May 11.—A new slum-clearing and housing plan calling for expenditure of $104,000,000, which would tie life insurance to housing and, it is claimed, banish unemployment, while raising annual city revenue, is being studied by the executive committee of the City of Montreal at the suggestion of Mayor Camille Houde.

The new plan is that of James A. Armstrong, Montreal engineer, it has been learned.

Preliminary financing would call for subscription of $10,000 each by ten public-spirited citizens to obtain letters patent, charters and secure the necessary options on land.

Actual shortage of houses or dwellings in Montreal is 40,728, it is claimed, and there are 26,000 slum dwellings. Proponents of the plan claim that if it were implemented, 37,500 heads of families would be absorbed into their own trades for three years, relief would disappear and the city would benefit by better housing, better social conditions and increased income through additional return in property and water tax.

Bond issues would be in lots of $25,000,000 each in May and October, 1934 and 1935, and $4,000,000 in May, 1936, all maturing in twenty years.

The plan says that if Canadian banks, insurance companies and private investors cannot absorb the issue, the necessary financing would be completed in twenty-four hours in London.

The Dominion Government would be asked to aid in securing permission to bring the money out of England.

TO BUILD ROAD IN A HURRY
Toronto, May 11.—The Toronto parks commission, which has restored historic Fort York at considerable expense, was faced today with building a road in a hurry, at a rate of about seventy-eight feet a day for a week or more.

The commission set at two weeks hence the date of an elaborate opening for the fort with a gigantic parade. It was somewhat disturbed when it found no road existed to the historic building. It will cost about $3,500 to build one, but the commission will charge it up to relief work and split the amount three ways with the Dominion and Ontario governments.

SCHOOL FEES ARE OPPOSED
Montreal, May 11.—The Student League of Canada, with headquarters at Toronto, has announced its support of Montreal high school students in their battle against higher fees for pupils and lower salaries for teachers.

A telegram from the League received by the recently organized students' organization here was made public yesterday as follows: "In the name of thousands of students from Halifax to Vancouver, greetings and solidarity to the high school students in Montreal against fee increases. Forward the mass Student League. Forward to victory!"

The Montreal central Protestant school board recently announced a cut of 10 per cent in teachers' salaries and an increase of from 20 to 25 per cent in students' fees. The board stated this was necessary, having regard to the financial situation faced by the schools.

NEW BOARD'S WORK OUTLINED
Prof. Carrothers Addresses Vancouver Audience on B.C. Economic Council
Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 11.—"We must be careful in not destroying the faith of the people in the government of its institutions," stated Professor W. A. Carrothers, chairman of British Columbia's Economic Council, in an address to the Junior Chamber of Commerce here yesterday evening.

He was referring to the fact that the council, a part of the provincial government's set-up to carry out its policy of "planned economy" and something referred to as a "brain trust" had not been given the power to enforce its findings.

There were times, he said, when a courageous stand must be taken, a stand which by some would be termed, foolishness. In British Columbia there were many people who lived in the past.

The question arises, "Must we take cognizance of these people? In Russia, they had to be snuffed out. I do not feel, however, that Canada will have to take such action to bring about changes. But reform is necessary."

TWO VICTIMS
Dealing with the functions of the council, Professor Carrothers said it had two main lines of activity. The first was to investigate all recovery proposals and pass on the information to the government, and the second was to work out a sound economic program for the future.

He believed control of industry should arise from the bottom and not from the top. He was not an advocate of encouraging government control of industry, but the main function of the government was, nevertheless, the protection of the community as a whole.

"If a business discharges a number of men and those have to be kept at the expense of the government, isn't it right that the government should inquire why?" he asked.

FIVE IN AUTO DIE IN RIVER
Heron, Mont., May 11.—In the roaring waters of Clark's Fork River, rescue workers sought today the bodies of five persons, three of them children, who drowned when their motor car plunged down a sixty-foot bank into the stream.

The body of a sixth victim was recovered when the car was dragged from the water, but the body was not recovered.

The dead: W. L. Halger, sixty-eight, retired rancher and driver of the car; Mrs. Dora Iseninger, twenty-eight, Long Beach, Calif.; his daughter; Lulu May and Jean Hagler, six and seven respectively, grandchildren of Hagler, and Russell and Guy Hanson, three and one respectively, grandsons of Hagler.

ARABIA ARMIES ARE ADVANCING

Three Forces of Ibn Saud Move on Capital of Yemen

By HAROLD P. BRAMAN
Associated Press Correspondent
London, May 11.—King Ibn Saud, climaxing his crushing drive to subjugate all Yemen, spurred three separate armies to-day in a combined movement on Sana, Yemen's ancient capital.

The powerful ruler's largest army, under Crown Prince Emir Saud, had opened an offensive against Sana, key city northwest of Sana, and the gateway to the picturesque capital.

The second division was advancing from Hodeidah, Red Sea port, already smashed by Ibn Saud's Saudi Arabian forces and now policed by them while British, French and Italian warships lie watchfully in the harbor.

The third army, now east of Sana, was moving to advance immediately on the capital, a city of about 25,000 population and surrounded by a brick wall.

Saudi sources in London revealed Ibn Saud's new campaign plans to the Associated Press to-day, asserting that "once Sana falls, it will be only a short time until our armies enter and control Sana."

FOREIGNERS PROTECTED
The Saudis vowed that foreigners' interests will be fully protected, asserting the main idea of subjugating Yemen is to bring permanent peace to that area.

King Ibn Saud decided, the Saudis said, on a "war to the finish" when the Iman Yaha failed to keep promises to enter into a twenty-year peace arrangement.

One Mourner, a Spanish Jewess, at C. C. Julian Rites in Shanghai
By Morris J. Harris, Associated Press Foreign Staff
Shanghai, May 11.—C. C. Julian was consigned to the elements to-day in a beggar's coffin.

The body of the Manitoba-born promoter whose meteoric career rose to great heights in California and Oklahoma oil fields and ended in suicide here March 25 reached its final resting place in Shanghai's foreign cemetery.

Miss Leonora Levy, the Spanish Jewess, who sought to accompany Julian in death by taking the same kind of poison, but who recovered, was the sole mourner. She was dressed in a snow white ensemble.

When the cheap, pine casket entered the earth, the young woman wept bitterly. Then, alone, she trod dejectedly away.

Rev. Emory Luccock of Oak Park, Ill., pastor of a Shanghai American community church, in the brief commitment service, prayed Julian's "life eternal may be comprised of experiences different than those making up his earthly career."

Immediately after the ceremony at the grave, Chinese coolies began pouring in the earth—forever closing life's book on this dramatic character, who died in abject poverty after fleeing from Oklahoma, where he faced charges of fraud.

AN INDUSTRIALIST AND JAPAN

BEFORE A PRIVATE BODY OF MEMbers of the British House of Commons recently an eminent Old Country industrialist who had just returned from a tour of investigation in Japan and China produced some pointed facts which were prophetic of the economic tension which now exists between the United Kingdom and Nippon. He referred to the seriousness of Japanese competition with Britain's export trade and warned the committee that unless something was done, this competition would become much more intensive, and he gave several reasons upon which he based his prediction.

In the first place, this authority reiterated the fact that the Japanese are both enterprising and assimilative, that as the result of much study on the part of their people in Great Britain and the United States, "they have profited by the errors of older industrialists in those countries." By the purchase of up-to-date plant in the neighboring republic and from Old Country manufacturers, the Japanese had put themselves a good distance ahead in certain industries. He explains:

This is a comparatively newly-industrialized country, was almost insensible, and I can not say that we have any cause for complaint against ourselves for supplying Japanese requirements of plant to make goods previously imported from this country. If we had not done so, other countries would, but the fact remains that we have contributed ourselves to the efficiency of the Japanese industrialist. They in many cases started on virgin ground, whereas in this country factories of their present size are evolutions of small units, not always properly integrated. Many businesses here grew up so quickly that additions had to be made to plants known to be inferior in layout instead of erecting new plants of greater efficiency under ideal conditions.

The authority we are quoting proved to the private Commons committee that the result of this Japanese policy and Britain's failure to change her tactics was superiority of plant efficiency in Japan with regard to certain important industries. In addition, their standard of living—which, he says, is quite good enough for them in view of their national characteristics and environment—and their distinctly long hours, have given them costs of manufacture in various products which he considers are distinctly lower than those obtaining in Britain. Then, of course, the depreciation of the yen by sixty-five per cent has given Japan a very great advantage in her export trade.

It will be seen that the foregoing is a fairly concise explanation of the cause of the economic trouble between the two countries and why Great Britain has felt compelled to erect artificial barriers to prevent the flow of Japanese goods into the United Kingdom and into those colonies and protectorates over which the British government has jurisdiction. On the assumption that there are many formidable factors in favor of Japan in competition with Great Britain in the export markets of the world, our industrial authority told the Commons committee that much could be done to overcome the difficulties with which the British industrialist is confronted in this connection. We quote his own words:

It is obvious to experienced men that many industries in this country want overhauling and reorganizing: that we want a co-ordination of disintegrated individual effort, and we want a planning of our industrial programme over a period of years. Japan has acted in this manner. Much can be done in this country to lower cost of manufacture, but this can only be accomplished in my opinion by spending money on manufacturing research, by which new processes can be evolved and new machinery designed, in order to ensure greater and greater efficiency and thus lower costs.

With shrunken purses to-day, price is the acid test, not quality. I do not suggest for a moment that we should not give a wearable article, BUT IN MANY INDUSTRIES IN BRITAIN WE SEEM TO MAKE A QUALITY THAT WILL LAST FOR ALL TIME.

The conclusion of this authority's address had to do with a standard of living which is popularly supposed to have created malnutrition and discontented workers. On this point he told the Commons committee that he had been through two factories in Kobe and Osaka and he had to confess that he saw nothing of the sort. "Working ten hours a day, workers of both sexes are contented and happy and have good physiques," he says, "and the Japanese are now indulging in much more sport than ever before. As regards the hours of labor, I hope these may be remedied by international action, although that will be a slow process. The difficulty as regards long hours is that we see no evidence of discontent on the part of the Japanese worker."

The industrialist whose observations we have set down is an important executive of a large British concern doing business with Japan and the world in general. This concern has kept abreast of the times. It has experimented in many fields and, apart from keeping its old and capturing new business, it has spent vast sums on new plant, increased employment, kept up wages, and distributed several millions of pounds of new money. It has pointed the way for other industries to follow that example.

FORTUNATE GREECE

IT RECENTLY CAME TO LIGHT THAT
while Samuel Inull, now in jail in Chicago awaiting the commencement of his trial, had laid careful plans to erect a gigantic power empire in Greece. He had made the statement that after a long study he became thoroughly convinced that "we could quickly make Greece the leading commercial and industrial country of the Near East"—and only his untimely flight prevented him from putting his plans into execution.

Mr. Inull once had a similarly grandiose scheme for the neighboring republic and many in that country are probably thanking their lucky stars that this is one part of his great utilities tree which did not blossom. And it might not be out of place to explain to the descendants of Pericles and Demosthenes that this would appear to be their lucky year.

If the Greeks will read a few United States newspapers during the forthcoming trial they may discover just how really lucky they are that the Inull band of industrial greatness was not to be their lot.

AN INAUSPICIOUS START

GOLFDOM IN GREAT BRITAIN HAD
hoped for great things from this year's Walker Cup team. It was generally agreed that the eight men selected had a good chance of turning back their friendly opponents from the United States. But the first day's play in the Scotch foursomes has put a damper on the prospects. The tally stands at three matches to one in favor of the visitors. This gives them a commanding lead as they start out on the singles to-morrow.

One of the greatest disappointments to-day was the overwhelming defeat of Wethered and Tolley who had to bow to Goodman and Little to the tune of eight and six. It had also been expected that Hon. Michael Scott, the fifty-six-year-old holder of the British Amateur crown, and McKinlay would be able to prove a wee bit too good for Egan—who, of course, is well-known in Victoria—and Marston; but it was not to be, the latter finishing at the right end with three and two. Two fine and experienced players in Oumet and Dunlop fell before young McLean and McRuvie at the price of four and two, the only British triumph. Some surprise no doubt was experienced when such promising exponents as young Bentley and Fiddian had to bow to Moreland and Westland with a six and five deficit.

There is, of course, to-morrow to come with its hopes of recovery. These will be the eight straight battles. To-day's games were Scotch foursomes in which, if non-golfers are not aware, partners play alternate shots with the same ball. According to the dispatches, this was the undoing of the Wethered-Tolley combination, for many times when Tolley reached the little pill he found it in a poor "lie." Such, however, is the game, and so it must be played. We shall know by this time to-morrow whether the United States have chalked up their eighth consecutive victory, for this is the eighth of the series.

THEY DID THEIR PART

IT HAS BEEN SAID MANY TIMES THAT
birds and beasts have a great deal more common sense and intelligence than a large percentage of human beings. There are, of course, a lot of stupid dumb animals, just as there are a lot of stupid people. A Minnesota farmer relates that he saw a lot of ducks in a huddle in the middle of his little lake. They were kicking up such a commotion that he took a rowboat and went over to the web-footed assembly to see what all the fuss was about.

In the centre of the huddle was a duck more than half under water being dragged down by a huge mud turtle that had got it by the foot. The other ducks were pressed as closely as they could get in an effort to hold their playmate up as long as possible, meanwhile sending out their distress signals as best they could. The farmer put the finishing touches to the rescue efforts and the ducks disbanded. Here were quacks "doing their part" under their own style of NRA.

Out of the 35,000 Canadians who composed the First Contingent, it is estimated that only about 4,000 are still alive. This is one of the most potent arguments in favor of the peace movement in Canada.

There is still an agitation going on at Ottawa among a very small number in support of the suggestion that Canada withdraw her membership from the League of Nations; but if a vote of the people of the Dominion were to be taken, there would be an overwhelming verdict against such a proposal. After all, membership since 1919 has cost this country only $3,260,574, very considerably less than the loan which the Dominion government made to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company a couple of years ago without interest.

These are obviously trying times for the Prime Minister of Canada and it is safe to say that he is going about his business in the way he thinks is best for the country. Nobody denies his sincerity of purpose; the people are merely cross with him because he tries to do everything himself and will not take advice from others. And he appears to be so overworked that it is causing him to say things which, in a calmer state of mind, he would scarcely say. For example, he said in the House of Commons the other day that "no person has done quite as much to bring about international trade in this country as I have." Some will smile at this remark; but there will be others, the farmers, the importers and exporters, not to mention the railway companies, who will mutter uncomplimentary remarks. The Prime Minister must realize by this time that his trade "blasting" process did not work.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

EARTH ADAPTING IT
The Border Cities Star

Prof. Marian Shapley of Harvard Observatory, makes the announcement that owing to changes in the moon, the earth is gradually revolving more slowly and the length of our day is being increased one-thousandth of a second per century. Just think—in a little more than 720,000,000 years we'll have an extra hour of daylight without resorting to Daylight Saving!

THE MARKETING BOARD
The Woodstock-Carleton Sentinel

The man in the street will hope the thing will work out. Perhaps the co-ordination of effort along official channels will bring results. When it is considered that men who have spent their lives in the marketing business would shrink from the responsibility of having a nation's output with the responsibility of having to make good any loss, it is enough to make a person dizzy thinking what may happen if the government appoints a political board.

WHY WORRY?

To the Editor:—If it is true that Canada's unmatured debt is $2,789,152,022 on which annual interest charges are $11,890,287, why worry about a pay of $5,000,000?
Ottawa taking British Columbia to economize is good enough for Punjab or Puck.

"INDEPENDENCE"

To the Editor:—Your correspondent I. L. H. writes of "Independence for British Columbia." Just what does he mean?
Does he want this province to secede from Canada, become a crown colony and take its orders from Downing Street?

Let I. L. H. be a little more definite next time he speaks of "Independence." We are listening! R. R. F.

THE BRITISH BUDGET

To the Editor:—The British budget recently introduced by the Chancellor of the Exchequer reduces the standard rate of income tax by sixpence to 4s. 6d. in the pound.

This fact is of importance to those of our readers who receive dividends or trust income from this country. The reduction will mean that although their net dividends will be reduced, the amount of their payment claims will be slightly smaller for the year ended April 5, 1935.

The sums recoverable will still be substantial, however, and should any of your readers be difficulty in obtaining their repayment, I shall be pleased to advise them if they will communicate with me at the address below.

LIFEBOAT ASSOCIATION

To the Editor:—This letter is number twelve of the series which is being issued with the authority of the directors of the V.I.L.A. The eleventh letter continued to give the standing rules for the management of lifeboats and open boats in a surf and when approaching a wreck, as issued by the Royal National Lifeboat Institution.

Regarding a wreck or vessel in a heavy sea.—The larger sailing lifeboats, chiefly on the Norfolk and Suffolk coasts, which go off to wrecks on outlying shoals, are, however, usually anchored to windward of stranded vessels, and then veered down to 100 or 150 fathoms (600 to 900 feet) of cable, until near enough to throw a line on board. Under these circumstances the greatest care has to be taken to prevent the boat from being blown away from the wreck, and the crew of the latter have sometimes to jump overboard and be hauled to the boat by ropes.

It is every case of boarding a wreck or vessel, it is important that the lines by which a boat is made fast should be of sufficient length to allow of her rising or falling freely with the sea, and in every case should be kept in hand ready to be slipped or cut in a moment if necessary. When wrecked persons or other passengers are taken into a boat in a seaway, they should be placed on the thwart in equal numbers on either side, and be made to sit down. All crowding or rushing headlong into the boat must be prevented.

This concludes, for the present, the extracts from the regulations of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution. The annual report of the institution for the year 1932 contains statistics of magnificent and fearless work done by the coastguards and crews of lifeboats. The number of lives saved, fifty-four. No month passed without the rescue of lives somewhere round the British coasts, and during February and December a number was over two per day. Lifeboats aided fishing vessels on seventy-six occasions and rescued 181 fishermen, and rescued twenty-four lives off yachts.

THE LOGGERS' STRIKE

To the Editor:—Mrs. Alice McGregor's letter on the above subject shows an appalling ignorance, and is no doubt paramount in the ideas of the men on the dreary end of a crescent saw, eight hours a day for 30 cents an hour! Three whole dollars and twenty cents. Ye gods, what riches! Almost too much to be true and that is why, I suppose, that

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST
By ALINE MICHAELS

SLEEP SONG
Weaver of nets, all dusky-dim
Like skeins of midnight with stars a-brim,
Says in yip, twine the leaves of shade,
Heart's desire by the day denied,
Sleep, weave softly a glad release
Of shade and of stars for tired eyes of mine!

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
May 11, 1909
(From The Times Files)

Nine hundred thousand dollars is the sum which the city will offer to the Esquimalt Waterworks Company as a fair price for its Goldstream and Thetis Lake properties.

The Victoria Baseball League will open its season on Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Park, when the Victoria nine plays the Bonnie Braes of Seattle.

In all probability Oak Bay may have a dock in the near future, a dock at which fairly large steamers can tie up. Years ago various propositions were made to make Oak Bay into a serviceable harbor and thus shorten the distance between this city and Vancouver by very nearly an hour, but it has remained for the present council of the municipality to take the first active steps looking to a realization of what was formerly considered a dream.

South Saanich is beyond doubt one of the most progressive communities in British Columbia. Nowhere, save in North Saanich, can one find such excellent public roads, good in all seasons and in all weather. The Saanich people do not make a good road and then sit down in conceited content and smile while the road is being run into ruts and hollows.

Dr. Nelson has been appointed health officer of Oak Bay, and one of the first duties which have been set him is that of inspecting a certain ditch on Poul Bay Road, which for years has proved a great annoyance and source of danger to the residents of the neighborhood.

Magistrate George Jay will see that all offenders charged with riding bicycles on the sidewalks appear before him in the future.

Logging outfits in British Columbia are American capitalists who have no foolish patriotic qualms as to which side of an imaginary line they operate on.

If her fantastic theory is correct does it not follow that when the British Columbia mills cease work and the Washington mills start up it is still the working men and women who suffer and that the same condition holds good if it is the other way about? Does Mrs. McGregor's good Christian conscience only weep for Canadian workers? Are they not both of the same clay? They are both treated as dirt anyway! Of course, it is nice to know that the strike is comfortably settled and that thought is no doubt paramount in the ideas of the men on the dreary end of a crescent saw, eight hours a day for 30 cents an hour! Three whole dollars and twenty cents. Ye gods, what riches! Almost too much to be true and that is why, I suppose, that

Close of Winter Recreational Season

The practical side of the girls' work programme of the Y.W.C.A. was effectively demonstrated before an interested gathering yesterday evening when members of the "Y" winter recreational classes held their closing exercises. The instructress of gymnastics, Miss Barbara Hinton, and the accompanist, Miss Verna Holt, were presented with beautiful bouquets of flowers by the recreational class and the Monday night business girls' class.

CHILDREN'S GAME

The programme opened with the singing of "O Canada," followed by a number of singing games by the children of the Saturday morning story and play group. Those taking part were Donald, Frank and Barbara Dick; Ilma, Muriel and Lawrence Simpson; George Hawkins and Norma and Irene Holdridge.

A simple tap dance by the girls of the recreational hour followed, and body conditioning exercises were shown by the business girls' class, including Miss Jean Stanhope, Jessie McMillan, Joyce Turner, K.

Elston, Winifred Parker, "Biddy" Boyce, Irene Deskin, Dorothy Thomas, Mary Scott, Mary McDonald, Eleanor Walton, K. Tadmam, Sidie Underwood, Edna Irvine and Marie Marquand.

DANISH FOLK DANCE

Taking part in an attractive Danish folk dance, "Little Man in a Pix," were girls of the recreational hour class: Ida Fredrickson, Mabel Beschizza, Gore Lim, Nelly Oleson, Phyllis Newton, Barbara Allen, Kathleen Gurney, Dorothy Nash and Margaret Landie.

The reel "Turkey in the Straw" was performed by some of the business class girls and those of the recreational class performed a tap dance, "Juba."

One of the most attractive items of the programme was the Pirates' Dance, in costume, performed by Barbara Allen, Helen Clague and Gore Lim, who were enthusiastically encouraged several times. The programme was brought to a close with relay games by the girls' recreational class.

Miss Hinton, the physical director, and Miss Pauline Rookes, sponsor of the Saturday morning play hour, were in charge of the programme. These classes were started early last winter as an experiment, and have proved so successful that they will form part of the regular programme of Y.W.C.A. work and will begin again in October.

Plan Social For Wrecked Sailors

At the May meeting of Victoria Seamen's Institute, held yesterday afternoon at the Institute, Superior Street, Mrs. H. W. Sawyer, president, interested the members with an account of what she had been able to do for the pleasure and well-being of the surviving sailors from the badly damaged Norwegian motorship Childar, who are at present in Victoria.

Amusement for the seamen during their free time has been ensured through the generosity of the local picture houses, the Dominion, Playhouse and Columbia Theatres having given passes for their use; while the Crystal Gardens is also at their free disposal, and it is hoped these courtesies, together with gifts of smokes from Mrs. J. W. Troup and the Hudson's Bay Company, may make the enforced visitors to Victoria feel that they have not fallen amongst strangers.

A social is being sponsored for them by Victoria Seamen's Institute to be held in the large hall of the Institute, Superior Street, on Tuesday evening, when the Norwegians of Victoria, under the leadership of Mrs. Roberts, will cooperate in entertaining their fellow countrymen. Miss Evelyn Holt's orchestra will contribute the music and interested friends are invited to attend.

The regular routine meeting yesterday included reports of the secretary and treasurer, Madams Claudet, and of the house committee and hospital visiting committee. Both Mrs. Finmore and Madams Claudet reported no sailor patients in hospital this month. The house committee was congratulated upon the cheerful appearance of the rooms and the bright effect of the new sunshade curtains, which have lately been hung. Flowers from the garden of the Institute were also much admired.

A donation to an ex-sailor was made through one of the conveners of hospital visiting, Mrs. Finmore. The number of men who registered at the Institute during the past month was given as 292, and apprentice boys thirty-five. The annual donation from Miss Maria Bond for the Sailor Boys Club, which is a department of the Institute, was received from Miss Bond from England yesterday. Miss de Trafford, convener of the wool committee, reported gifts of socks to shipwrecked sailors and to an ex-sailor.

Hamilton, Ont., May 11.—More than 100 members of the Catholic Women's League of Hamilton have joined in a nation-wide protest against motion pictures, pledging themselves to renounce films and use their influence to get others to abstain from such amusements.

Their action followed presentation of a pamphlet prepared by Most Rev. Thomas O'Connell, Archbishop of Halifax, in which the league was praised for its action against birth control and sterilization, and which concluded with: "To my mind the moving pictures presented to-day without much practical opposition from government censors and effective opposition from Catholic social action associations are the most potent instruments of diabolical propaganda against God, religion and Christian virtue."

Your Baby
and Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

MOTHER NEEDS PLENTY OF REST

Having decided to forego weaning the baby before hot weather, the nursing mother's present problem is to make herself a successful nurse until September. To do this she must first be convinced that she is giving the best and most sterile food possible to serve during the hot weather. But it is necessary that baby have enough of it.

REST IS NECESSARY

One of the requisites for successful nursing, about which the mother is often careless, is sufficient rest. The difference in the milk supply is readily apparent when the mother allows herself to become fatigued. To promote a better supply, if it happens to be wanting, it is profitable to increase daily rest periods. Mothers may pool-pool this idea and ask how a busy mother can manage more rest, but if rest is essential to a good breast supply and fatigue leads to a dissatisfied baby, it is unwise to neglect baby and eventually to weaning, it must be managed.

The baby may be nursed while the mother lies down. Nursing demands at least fifteen minutes every four hours, a total of one hour of complete relaxation. If more rest is needed, it will have to be snatched when baby is asleep and the other children, if any, taken care of.

TECHNIQUE

Complete and thorough stripping of the breast at each nursing is likewise essential to its successful functioning. When four-hour nursing periods are in force, it is advisable to use both breasts at each nursing. Perhaps only one of these will get a thorough stripping at one period, the second breast being incompletely emptied. The next nursing should be started on the "second" breast and completed on the other. This insures that one breast at each nursing period will be completely emptied.

The mother's diet is important only because it contributes to her own health and well-being. She should eat foods to which she is accustomed and foods that she likes. Whether they are sour or acid is of no moment. All foods to which she reacts well are permissible in her diet. She should drink water freely, and one pint to one quart of milk a day to supply her unusual calcium needs. Other than this her diet should be a well-balanced one but no restrictions as to type of food.

My leaflet, "Diet for the Nursing Mother," will be helpful for those mothers who are unable to work out well balanced diets for themselves. For a copy of the leaflet send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to this department. To-morrow — "Let Child Exercise Power in Small Ways."

In her very original valedictory address, Miss Mary Lucile Malkin dwelt on the theme of raising taxes for the better maintenance of institutions designed to improve the health of the community. By spending more liberally on this work, the governments that are responsible for the imposition of taxes for this purpose would be really reducing the burden on the people, for by broadening the work of nurses to take in field work, catching the unhealthy child and taking him to the clinic, getting the doctor on the job early and other preventive measures, the cost of health services would quickly diminish, due to the development of a healthy people. The slogan of the nurse of the future, she predicted, would be "keep healthy people healthy."

Mayor Leeming, in his address, paid tribute to the magnificent community work rendered by the Jubilee Hospital, its staff, the medical profession, and also expressed the opinion that the cost of maintaining the health of the community should not devolve merely upon the home-owner, but should be more equitably distributed.

In conclusion he congratulated the graduates, reminding them that the profession they had chosen called for the highest ideals, the real spirit of self-sacrifice and self-abnegation.

Mayor Leeming, in his address, paid tribute to the magnificent community work rendered by the Jubilee Hospital, its staff, the medical profession, and also expressed the opinion that the cost of maintaining the health of the community should not devolve merely upon the home-owner, but should be more equitably distributed.

In conclusion he congratulated the graduates, reminding them that the profession they had chosen called for the highest ideals, the real spirit of self-sacrifice and self-abnegation.

THE Lone Wolf's Son

By Louis Joseph Vance

A customs appraiser finished just then doing a sum with a pencil and looked up to render the verdict, announcing a duty on the stones that made Maurice—when he had mentally translated it into francs—gasp.

It was otherwise with Fenno. She gave a short light laugh, in which Maurice heard a private comment on the high cost of mamma's caprices, and looked expectantly to the secretary whom her father had sent to meet her. A man little on the hither side of middle-age, in whose face mildly misanthropic eyes were at odds with a modest and amiable spirit, this one was a wistful grin as he took from his wallet a sheaf of treasury notes, and after moistening a thumb at his mouth, proceeded composedly to count them down upon the table.

A customs man verified the count; a colleague gave a receipt; Fenno shut up the shagreen case and replaced it in the overnight bag which was all the luggage she had carried on the mail plane. There were bows all round and polite verbal expressions, the group disintegrated and the girl beckoned Maurice with a smile.

"And now?" he asked, moving to her side.

"Now we go home, I mean. I'll go home, and then the car can take you on to your hotel."

"I'm sorry, Miss Crozier," the secretary interposed, but it isn't a car, it's only a cab. All the cars are at Southampton, except the one your father has been using—on such short notice, you understand, there wasn't time to get one in."

"That's all right. I only hope it's a decent taxi, not one of those ramshackle affairs the streets are full of, Mr. Fowler."

"I'm afraid this isn't quite the last cry in cabs," Fowler confessed with a sneer of apology in his smile, "but I haven't anything to do with its selection. The safe deposit people supplied it—insisted on being permitted to pick out a dependable driver—and sent it along with this young man, whose duty it is to see that nothing happens to the emeralds before the vaults are open to receive them tomorrow morning."

The secretary, as he spoke, handed Fenno's bag to the person in question, a sturdy fellow with a jutting under-jaw and hard eyes alert in the shadow of a peaked cap. His dark blue tunic carried a gold-embroidered legend, Gotham Safe Deposit Co., and was strapped by a Sam Brown belt from which a holstered pistol hung.

THAT "LIKE THE DICKENS" FEELING IS LIVER

Wake Up Your Liver Bile. Feel Fit. You Needn't use Calomel To Do It.

It's your liver, failing to pour out the vital two pounds of bile, daily, into your bowels, that makes you feel so off-color.

Lack of bile causes poor digestion. Food stays too long in your bowels and decays. Your system is poisoned. You go through a wearying of gas, bloating, pain, heartburn. You have a dark brown sallowish taste in your mouth and bad breath. Your skin's unattractive and often your head aches. Your whole system seems out of kilter.

How can you reasonably expect to clear up a condition like this by merely taking salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage? These only move the bowels and that's not enough. You must wake up your liver bile.

Avoid mineral (mercury). Take Carter's Little Liver Pills. They're purely vegetable, gentle, pure and safe. They'll make you feel a hundred per cent better in a very short time. Don't waste your money on substitutes. Get the genuine Ask for Carter's by name—and get them! Look for the name, Carter's, on the red label. 25¢ at all drug stores.

FRIENDLY HELP MAKES APPEAL

The Friendly Help Welfare Association, 1234 Pandora Avenue, appeals for the following articles, which are urgently needed by several families in straitened circumstances: Garden utensils of all kinds, chairs, curtains, linoleum, beds and bedding and mattresses of all sizes, and a pushcart. Anyone having such articles to spare is requested to phone G 7194.

ghost persevering to pursue his awful occasions in a tenement all made over and modernized, refurnished and refurnished, especially to discourage him?

And now this woman turned up with her allegations that chimed so truly with the counsels of experience: "Don't take my word for it, Morris boy; wait till we get ashore and I fix it for you to listen in on the Underground and hear what it knows about the Lone Wolf and the soft-shoe act he pulls backstage, behind the spotted or squealed on of M. Langford, art-expert extraordinary, of Delibes et Cie, Paris."

"But I do not understand. How should you, my American underworld know so much about what goes on in ours?"

"That just shows what an innocent you are, Listen, baby; what you call the underworld isn't any national institution—it's international. Stands to reason it's got to be. If the swell mob all over didn't keep in touch and more or less pull together, they'd be lousy. Suppose some New York crook, now, makes a big haul, fixes a break in to have things fixed so he can ship the junk abroad to be sold piecemeal in Paris and London and Berlin—all over. Or say he's been spotted or squealed on, and has to take it on the lam; how's he going to find a safe hide-away on the other side without there's somebody been cabled to be on hand when he lands and look out for him?"

Memory of that conversation grew more vivid, the more she ruminated on it. For the moment it was almost as though Maurice stood with the woman at the rail again, staring away into the matted dark, and aware once more of the warmth of her shoulder, the perfume of her hair that flitted with his cheek, her confidential underlines that were hardly less caressing.

The next instant he snapped back to the present with a secret shiver of distaste for the recollection. Fenno was speaking to him, and the frank deep kindness that warmed her voice stressed unpleasantly the purring innuendo of the other woman's.

Not that he disliked the Boyce. He knew her kind too well to think the less of her for being what she was. He was even grateful to her; but for her good-natured warning and instruction he would, in all likelihood, have let his father play him for a donkey. But he did hope she wasn't brooding any nonsense, wasn't being so stupid as to flatter herself she could estrange him from Fenno.

It was all very interesting, that plunge from the pier to the heart of town, all very curious and stimulating, if widely untrue to expectations kindred by first sight of New York from the air—the dream city of an elfin cubist realized in jeweled walls of mist and moonshine by the sea at twilight sea. But to realize that magic promise, its dwellings would have to be all ivory and opal, its pavements seamless mother-of-pearl on which chariot-like living bijoux coursed, its very air aromatic as the fabled breath of Araby—and there could have been nothing whatever in it of the scenes and smells of West Street and Twenty-third, the lumpy going they afforded that antiquated taxicab.

TERRAPLANE IS HANDSOME CAR

Smart New Streamlined Cars Offer Motoring Public Many Luxuries

With streamlines markedly accentuated, two smart new models of the Terraplane-Hudson line are on view to-day at Jameson Motors Limited, 740 Broughton Street.

Streamlines, increased size, more spacious interiors and de luxe equipment throughout are the chief appearance features of these latest Canadian-built cars. Built-in radio is available as optional equipment. Such things as instrument panel package and glove boxes, ruby tell-tale lights and unusually luxurious trim and upholstery are standard. Asileflex independent front springing is optional.

Mechanically, both the six-cylinder Terraplane convertible and the eight-cylinder Hudson are marked by a very high ratio of power to weight which is a fundamental reason for their brilliant performance and fast getaway in traffic. Unit-engineering is responsible for strength and ruggedness.

The six-cylinder power plant on the Terraplane can, with the optional super-power dome head, be stepped up to 89.5 horsepower, while the Hudson eight motor with the same equipment develops 121 horsepower.

The new cars have synchro-mesh transmissions, mechanical equal-acting braking systems and duoflo automatic lubrication systems. On the Hudson, low pressure tires of the airwheel type are used.

IMPRESSED BY NATIONAL GOLD

W. F. Irwin Comments on Extent of Ore Bodies Developed in Bridge River

Impressed by the size and extent of the ore bodies already developed at National Gold Mines Limited in the Bridge River district, W. F. Irwin, who has just returned from the property, reiterated his satisfaction at having his firm, W. F. Irwin (Vancouver) Limited, identified with the financing of this mine.

"I was particularly interested in the tremendous extent of the ore bodies already developed," said Mr. Irwin. "At one point where it has been cross-cut the main vein is nearly fifty feet in width and at almost every other point where cross-cuts have been made it is at least twelve feet wide. The mine, too, is well located, being only three miles from transportation, and owing to the fact that all mining is being done directly on the vein different levels can be handled entirely by gravitation to the mill.

Mr. Irwin was accompanied on his trip by the managing director, Ridgeway R. Wilson, the consulting engineer, B. W. W. McDougall, and Charles Campbell, mining engineer, who is associated with the Wilson engineering organization.

WELL EQUIPPED

Mr. Wilson commented on the National Gold property as follows: "I was very favorably impressed with size of vein on National Gold property, which varies from several feet up to forty-five feet in width;

one of the strongest veins I have examined in British Columbia. The property is admirably situated for low cost production, and has ample water power for requirements. The mine is close to transportation. The amount of development to date indicates sizeable tonnage of ore for milling. The property is suitably equipped with camp buildings and facilities for an active development campaign to definitely block out ore."

Quite Frankly, the Object of this Advertisement is to Stimulate Business.

The clouds of depression are gradually rising, and this movement towards better times can be speeded by a greater use of our railroads. In this you, the public of Canada, can help. The more you use the railroads, the more will be spent on wages and supplies, and,—so wide are the ramifications of this industry—every home in Canada will benefit. Besides, as a result of economical operation, you will receive unexcelled value for every dollar you spend.

So make your plans now for greater use of railroads, which were never before in a better position to serve you. For vacations, business trips, carriage of goods by express and freight, for telegraphs and transference of money, the railroads are your willing and efficient servants, not for part of the time only, when conditions are propitious, but all the year round. By rendering this continuous and essential service they deserve your patronage.

Do not think of railroads as transcontinental systems only. True, transcontinental business is important, very important, but the railroads are specially anxious to serve for short trips and on branch lines. You will find that for a surprisingly low expenditure you can go almost everywhere, be it near or far, in comfort and safety when you travel by rail.

Duncan, manager of the Vancouver Island Co-operative Fruit Exchange, pointed out that the increased rate of wages made it impossible to compete on the British market. TRADE IS BUILT BY ADVERTISING

C.C.M. Co. Credit Newspapers For Increasingly Good Business

The Canada Cycle and Motor Limited of Weston, Ontario, is a Canadian company that is enjoying increasingly good business and they give credit to newspaper advertising as a force that has helped them decidedly.

"Through the depression our company did not suffer as much as might have been expected," said J. W. Gibson, vice-president, "and there is no doubt that our resistance to the depression and our early comeback have been greatly helped by the fact that we have been pursuing for many years a liberal policy of newspaper advertising."

"What has been the net result of your many years' advertising?" was asked of Mr. Gibson. He paused thoughtfully for a minute or two and then said: "I think it can be truthfully said that our C.C.M. trade mark is today worth more than our plant and equipment. If we lost our plant we could erect another building and install more machinery but it would take the expenditure of much money and a long period of time to build up a trade name equal in value to that of C.C.M. That, I think, is what advertising has done for us."

VARIETY FOR VICTORIA DAY

Schedule of May 24 Events Arranged to Please Both Young and Old

Efforts to have the 1934 celebration of Victoria Day one of the most elaborate which the city has witnessed for many years are now being carried out by the committee in charge, which has arranged a wide schedule of events to please young and old.

Amusements ranging from pageantry, choral programmes, land and water sports, a parade, fireworks and a carnival will contribute to the day's variety.

A big feature will be the crowning of May Queen Georgina Dowdall at a special ceremony in the Royal Athletic Park, where the parade will wind up. Mayor David Leeming will officiate and Queen-elect Georgina will be escorted to her throne on a skiff. A float carrying a mounted detachment of provincial police.

The parade is one of the day's attractions which is depending largely upon the co-operation of merchants and organizations for its success. It is hoped all business houses and establishments of any kind will sponsor the appearance of a float in the parade. The first firm of the city to agree to this was Mallett's, who will parade their famous "Caddy," a sumptuous decorated car will also be featured.

The usual array of band music will accompany the parade, while a detachment from the police and fire departments, and a squad from the Victoria Motorcyclists will add a little color. In the decorated bicycle section prizes are offered for the best dressed boy and girl, the best dressed lady and gentleman, and the best comically dressed lady and gentleman. The best comic band from six to ten pieces will also receive an award.

The proposed route of the procession is from Herald at Douglas Street, long Douglas to Port Street, down Port to Government Street, along Government to Yates Street, up Yates Street to Quadra, along Quadra to Green Street, and thence to Royal Athletic Park, where it is expected, Queen Georgina will be crowned.

was the Tuckett factory at Hamilton, Ont., a subsidiary of the Imperial Tobacco Company.

From the start of his evidence, Mr. Stewart figuratively had fire in his eye. First of all he wanted to call three unnamed persons to the stand and ask them questions. When told by Hon. H. H. Stevens, chairman, that the task of the committee was to investigate the tobacco industry, the Montreal manufacturer said, "What I am trying to talk about is buying by the government."

Two or three times he said he intended to direct questions to the ministers on how his competitors could have obtained a tip on the excise reduction, but the committee took no formal recognition.

AVE NAME

Early in his evidence, Mr. Stewart referred to politics, contributing nothing to the case but saying he was "a close friend of the present Minister" and "a man very high up." Later, after Donald M. Kennedy, United Front member for Peace River, and J. L. Halsey, Liberal member for Hants-King, N.S., had pressed him, he gave the name Ward Pittfield of Montreal. As for himself, he stated, he did not play politics or make contributions to any party.

"Do you think," asked Mr. Halsey, that because you did not contribute you did not get the information in advance?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Stewart, "and because we do no lobbying here in Ottawa."

To Chairman Stevens, the tobacco manufacturer admitted a decrease in excise duties could not favor one manufacturer more than another. He said the tax was not reduced to slip anyone in particular.

FACTORY IDLE

"Do you say somebody told your competitors the excise was to be reduced?" asked Norman Sommerville, committee counsel.

"I could not say that," replied Mr. Stewart. He had a letter from a man living in St. Catharines, Ont., who he had visited the time the Tuckett factory was closed for three days before the reduction was made and found it idle.

Officials of the Hamilton company said, according to the witness, they expected a reduction in taxes within a day or two, and in the meantime were not operating their plant.

Although pressed by the chairman, committee counsel and members, Mr. Stewart declined to commit himself to any new deal for tobacco growers. He would not say he would co-operate in any plan to raise prices to the farmers or sit in with other manufacturers to stabilize prices.

REPRODUCTION

"I am not going to discuss anything with my competitors," insisted Mr. Stewart. His company had no direct contracts with growers, purchasing through the Hodge Tobacco Company, a subsidiary which dealt in raw leaf. There was only one reason why tobacco prices fell 50 per cent. from 1930 levels—overproduction, he said. Growers might be well pleased if they ploughed their fields. The MacDonald Tobacco Company is the creation of Sir William Macdonald, who died in 1917 and whose business was taken over by his brother. Since then Walter Stewart has been taking out in equity instalments ever since. Under a income tax schedule, this is not able.

The MacDonald company had 31 per cent. of the stock of the Hodge company, Mr. Stewart said, but the MacDonald company had never exercised control over the Hodge company, nor received profits from the

JAPAN OPPOSES AID TO CHINA

Associated Press
Tokyo, May 11.—Japan yesterday gave advance notice of a probable warning to both China and the League of Nations as to "the advisability of suspension" of Dr. Ludwig Rajchman's plans for financial aid to China by the League.

An "inspired" statement by Rengo (Japanese news agency) declared "Japan cannot countenance such plans."

The warning was regarded as a step toward effectuating the "hands off China" policy which Koki Hirota, Japanese Foreign Minister, announced April 17.

Hodge Company nor "managed" the Hodge Company.

ASKS QUESTION

Mr. Stewart was given permission by the chairman to ask him a question. The head of the MacDonald Tobacco Company said he had a letter which said that in 1932, when the Dominion reduced the excise tax on cigarettes from 89 to 84 a thousand, his competitors had the information in advance and did not reduce their cigarette prices in anticipation of the tax reduction.

"Do you mean your competitors were warned in advance?" asked Mr. Stevens.

"Yes. You have always treated us as of no importance. You did the same thing in the 1933 budget," retorted Mr. Stewart. He reiterated his earlier statement that his competitors had the tax reduction changes in advance.

"Do you make that assertion on your own responsibility?" asked Mr. Stevens.

"Yes, sir."

"A note will be taken of it," promised the trade minister.

"All I say is that if anyone knew the excise tax changes, all should have known."

PRICE REDUCED.

Answering a question asked by committee counsel, Mr. Stewart said his company had reduced the price of cigarettes from 1 1/2 cents to 1 cent each after the excise tax was reduced in 1931.

The committee will sit again next Monday.

Montreal, May 11.—"I have no comment to offer," stated Ward C. Pittfield of Montreal, when informed that Walter M. Stewart, Montreal president of W. C. MacDonald Incorporated had named him before the Commons mass buying committee in Ottawa as the "man close to the present Prime Minister" who had asked the tobacco company to donate to the Conservative campaign funds in the 1930 Dominion election.

Mr. Pittfield is widely known in financial circles in Montreal and holds directorates in many and varied enterprises. He is president and a director of W. C. Pittfield and Company, investment bankers; a director of the Canadian Paper Company, president and director of a member of the executive committee of the Canadian International Investment Trust Limited; a director of the Charles Walmsley and Company (Canada) Limited; a director of the Donnan Paper Company; a director of Fraser Companies Limited, Restigouche Company, Gypsum and Alabaster (Canada) Limited, the Mount Royal Hotel Company, the Ottawa Light, Heat and Power Company, the Ottawa Electric Company, the Holland Paper Company, the Sun-Mac Lines Limited and the Windsor Hotel.

He is also a partner in the firm of Pittfield, Scott and Company, stockbrokers.

Mr. Pittfield lives in suburban Carterville.

NAVY WEEK IS MOOTED HERE

Acting Mayor P. R. Brown Suggests Fleet Celebration July 30 to August 4

With a view to establishing in Victoria an event similar to Seattle's "Fleet Week," Acting Mayor P. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee, has filed a motion for the consideration of the City Council recommending the institution of a "Navy Week" here from July 30 to August 4. Should the council approve of the move, which the acting mayor feels would be of great value to local merchants, efforts will be made to have ships of the United States as well as British and Canadian navies in port that week.

According to information received here, H.M.S. Norfolk and H.M.S. Danne of the British special service squadron now in the West Indies will be in Victoria between those dates. With H.M.C.S. Skeena, H.M.C.S. Vancouver, H.M.C.S. Armentieres and the battleship, H.M.C.S. Nassau, of the Canadian navy, all in port, it is estimated about 2,000 naval men would be in the city that week. It is believed vessels of the United States navy could also be secured for the ceremony, adding further to the number of naval visitors here.

Acting Mayor Brown regards the scheme as an added tourist attraction which should draw many visitors to the city during the week.

A programme of sports, including track and field, team games, a water gala, boat races and a naval ball, are suggested as features of the week.

BIBLICAL DRAMA WELL RECEIVED

The Anglican Young People's Association of St. John's Church presented the Biblical drama, "Dream of Queen Esther," before a large and appreciative audience in St. John's Auditorium on Wednesday evening. This was the third presentation of the show and under the auspices of the Colfax Bebehal Lodge I.O.O.F., whose work was portrayed in a novel manner by the play.

While every member of the cast performed with credit, the acting of Miss Jeeves as the Queen, and Jack Laver, the venerable patriarch, Mordecai, was outstanding.

As a token of their appreciation, the Colfax Bebehal Lodge presented Miss Jeeves with a beautiful basket of flowers.

The cast was as follows: Esther, Miss C. Jeeves; Mordecai, J. Laver; King Ahasuerus, John Hooper; Hegai, S. Cooper; Meesha Zabeel, Miss K. Smith; Witch of Endor and Princess Zuecca, Miss Helen Thomas; Kooch, Miss N. Creelman; Deborah, Miss P. Gale; Miriam, Miss T. Harrison; Adah, Miss H. Forsyth; Electa, Miss E. Hooper; Fortia, Miss R. Curtis, L. Curtis, M. Parsons, G. Parke, G. Heater and G. Curtis.

Appropriate music was provided throughout the play by the A.T.P.A. orchestra, consisting of Miss K. Brown, piano; S. Laver and A. Faver, violins; and A. Plucke, cornet. The play was under the direction of S. C. Hawkins.

Edmonton, May 11 (Canadian Press)—Frank Conradson, fifty-three, will go on trial next Monday on a charge of slaying Carl Anderson, fifty-two, Buck Creek storekeeper. The Crown has decided to go ahead with the trial of the elder Conradson despite the acquittal of his twenty-one-year-old son, Frank Conradson, by a jury on Wednesday.

NEW LEGISLATIVE GROUPS IN ITALY

Associated Press
Rome, May 11.—Italy's economic forces had been divided to-day into twenty-two groups to exert legislative control over every field of national endeavor at a central corporate committee meeting which Premier Mussolini presided.

The action was based on a decision reached by the Fascist Grand Council last December 9. The committee's report represented a month's work on the Duce's scheme to thrust responsibility for the nation's entire economic structure on those engaged in business.

The state, however, will maintain rigid control.

Corporate groups are divided into three main classes.

1.—The corporation of agriculture.

2.—The corporation of the industrial and commercial production cycle.

3.—Activities productive of services.

WALTER HUSTON
WILL PLAY HERE

"Keep 'Em Rolling," the new RKO-Radio Picture at the Capitol Theatre, to-morrow, has down-to-earth pathos, comedy and drama;
starring performances by Walter Huston and Frances Dee; an auto-entire filmation of a soldier's life at an army post, and a stirring biography of a horse which spent more than twenty years in the army.
Huston, Miss Dee and the supporting cast succeed in making "Keep 'Em Rolling" thorough entertainment. Miss Dee is charming in appearance, and upholds the high standards she established as Meg in "Little Women." Minna Gombell,
Frank Conroy, Ralph Renley, Robert Shayne and G. Pat Collins are also seen in splendid characterizations.

$110 of this magnificent sum is promptly earmarked for board and lodging. You see the government admits that it takes some $30 a month to keep a logger (because the company pay no) while a man and wife with a family of three on relief must subsist on $22.50! No doubt that also encourages those ideals of citizenship of which Mrs. McGregor is so fond. Why doesn't the good lady come down to earth! Ideal citizenship or ideal anything else is for those who are comfortable in house, shed and feed—to the man with his shirt through his pants and his toes through his boots, with an empty hole in his belly, the only ideal worth a hoot is a good square meal and a roof over his weary head.
Strikers are bad for business, whines Mrs. McGregor. Of course they are; they are meant to be! You don't blame the log owners for trying to get the highest price they can for their logs. Why blame the labor owner for trying to get the highest price for his commodity? That's the system we live under, isn't it? The price system. Don't eat dog and the devil take the hindmost. It doesn't matter how flowery the language you dress it up in, the facts remain the same. And they remain the same whether the strike is engineered by "agitators" or by the loggers themselves. Jesus Christ was an "agitator," and if Mrs. McGregor thinks He would have been on the side of the owners she had better take another good look at her Bible!
Maybe she won't feel so comfortable about it all then.

EDUCATION WILL MAKE
CHILD A GOOD CITIZEN

It Is His Right to Learn Fundamentals of Health and Safety, To Be Prepared Against Disease and Accident

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

Like good health, education is a fundamental right of your child.
Such education is best had in schools.
In the schools, however, the child should be educated not only in the fundamentals of reading, writing, arithmetic and geography, which are necessary to success in work, but also as to safety and protection against accidents, which are important in saving him from crippling and from death, if not from death.

Your child is entitled, in the school,
to education regarding the functions of his body so that it may conserve these functions satisfactorily. It is entitled to know the causes of most of the various diseases, so that it may be able to prevent them when possible.

The school which the child attends should itself be so constructed as to make the child free from danger of bad air, insufficient light, insanitary conditions, and similar hazards to healthful growth.

If the child attends school and learns the things that it should it is simply impossible for it at the same time to earn a living.

Nevertheless, there are still places in the United States where children are forced so early into work that their growth, both physical and mental, is handicapped. They are deprived of play and of the usual pleasures of childhood that mean so much in later life.

Those rights of the child are altogether not such as to place too great a strain upon any community.
If observed, they will in the long run save vast sums of money in every community, in the care of the sick, disabled and unfit.

The children of to-day are the citizens of to-morrow. The one who lives by the sword or by the bottle for consumption on the premises or elsewhere.

ARLISS PLAYS AT DOMINION

Great English Actor Has Leading Role in "The House of Rothschild"

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

Crowds gathered nightly at the side of Fox Movietone Studio watching some of the free thrills of picture making. Clara Bow's new picture,
"Hoopla," which is now at the Playhouse Theatre, was in production and many of the opening sequences were made at night against a carnival background. A real, honest-to-goodness carnival was rented by the studio and installed on the Fox lot.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

A thorn always in the side of Slim Summerville, Universal comedy star, is that when he arrived in Hollywood in 1913 he discovered a man named Vic Fotel playing in "Slippery Slim" comedies and soon discovered that every one thought he was Fotel.
Strangely enough, in "Love, Honor and Oh, Baby," which is now at the Columbia Theatre, they work together for the first time, although they were employed on the same lot two decades ago.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Playing to packed houses Levey's Orpheum Circuit vaudeville is a very popular attraction at the Empire Theatre to-day.

"The Androsens," a famous family of serialists who formerly were with the Ringling Bros., circus, put on some splendid aerial stunts. The programme also includes Senna and Loomis in their funny "Monkey-shines"; Olesco, the European Violinist, with a beautiful musical treatment; Joan, Jerry and Billy with their dance creations and Primrose Simon and Joe Doris, direct from successes in London and New York.

The added screen attraction is Fay
Wray in "Madame Spy."

Cabaret Turn At
Palais de Danse

The management of the Palais de Danse will present their second big cabaret feature of the season to-night.
The lovely exponent of the Cuban rumba and the South Sea hula will dance these numbers to-night, and a record number of bookings is being made. Dolita de Soto created a sensation in New York recently at the Madison Square Garden. To-night's performance will be exclusive to the Palais de Danse, and the first Benarde Soto has made in the Dominion.

Hill-Billy Players
At Belmont Cabaret

Another opportunity occurs on Saturday at the Belmont Cabaret to see and hear the versatile hill-billy quartet, which has been such an outstanding success on previous good engagements. Albert Price and his orchestra will present the latest in dance music, including such hits as "You Ought to Be in Pictures," and "Without That Certain Thing," the latter number being the latest English sensation.

The House of Rothschild

"The House of Rothschild," George Arliss' first vehicle under his new contract with 20th Century Pictures, came to the Dominion Theatre to-day, and here indeed is a picture of which Hollywood may be justly proud.

It is unquestionably George Arliss' best film, the finest production which Joseph M. Schenck and Darryl F. Zanuck's young 20th Century Pictures company has contributed during its year of existence, and the most important picture to come out of Hollywood this season.

The story, which Nunnally Johnson based on a play by George Hem-bert Westley, is an ideal subject for Arliss, tracing as it does the fascinating history of the Rothschild family, whose devotion and unity resulted in their sensational rise to wealth and power, and providing for Arliss the role of Mayer, the founder, and later, his son, Nathan, the head of the family.

A shipment of bananas is expected Sunday.
Cantaloupes have been reduced in price and now range from 10 to 15 cents apiece.
Two ears of Grand Forks Blue ribbon potatoes have just been received.

BOARD TELLS BUYING PLAN
The attitude of the Victoria School Board on the question of purchasing plumbing fixtures was made known to-day by the board's decision to purchase the material for installation at Boys' Central School at wholesale rates, it was explained to-day.
The plumbers, represented by William Thacker at the board's last meeting, took exception to the policy adopted by the board, claiming it was not fair to their business.
An explanation to-day indicated the board secured all its supplies at the wholesale rate. It had not gone to the open market for lavatory fixtures by plumbers securing the material for the Boys' Central School, since it was convinced it would effect greater economy by securing the required fixtures at a local wholesale rate. The action had been taken, it was stated, to save the ratepayers money, which might have been charged in the form of commission by plumbers from Esquimalt and retailing it to the school board.

LABOR BOARD MAN IS HERE
Federal Department Official in Victoria to Discuss Firemen's Wage Plan
The question of firemen's salaries and a conciliation board, which has been before the City Council for weeks, was up again to-day.
F. E. Harrison, representative of the Department of Labor at Ottawa, was in Victoria this morning conferring with Acting Mayor F. R. Brown and members of the local fire fighters' union regarding the stand of the different parties on the question.
Prior to his visit, the latest development in the question was an appeal by the firemen for a reconsideration of the stand taken by the council, in a measure accounted for the tendency of the establishment of a board was not legal.
In a telegram from the Deputy Minister of Labor at Ottawa, received some time ago, that suggested the city and firemen present their case to Mr. Harrison on his arrival in Victoria, with a view to settling the matter without the use of a board of conciliation.
Just what steps would be taken following preliminary conferences to-day remained to be seen.

BODY NOT THAT OF L. A. HINDER
Identity of Remains Found Afloat Off Waterfront Mystifies Police
Identify of the body found afloat off the Dallas Road waterfront yesterday afternoon, remained a mystery to-day with announcement from city and provincial police that Mrs. Clifford Bales had stated positively the body was not that of Llewellyn Arthur Hinder, who was drowned at Foul Bay on January 15.
Mrs. Bales, who was in the boat with Mr. Hinder when it capsized and was reported to have stated definitely the remains were not those of Mr. Hinder.
The body found between Clover Point and Esquimalt, by William Hamilton, Fort Street, a fisherman, was badly decomposed.
No inquest has been called by Coroner E. C. Hart, pending identity.
The body now rests at the Curry & Son Funeral Home, where it was taken yesterday.

OLD NUMBERS OF ARION CLUB
Featured in Bright Programme at Empress Yesterday
By G. J. D.
The Arion Club, now in its forty-second season, was heard yesterday evening in its second concert of the winter, at the Empress Hotel ballroom. It was an unusual, typical Arion atmosphere—a social and friendly spirit apart from the more serious part of choral making, and the large audience, free with their applause and from time to time clamorous for repetitions, consisted mainly of associate members and adherents of many a year's performance.

Chicago Cubs Win Another Slugfest

Turn Back Brooklyn Dodgers 8 to 1 With Thirty Hits Ringing Off Bats of Two Clubs; Lou Gehrig Puts on Great Show as Yankees Win

Events of the last two days have borne out very well various and sundry surmises to the effect this year's edition of the Chicago Cubs was built around the new and livelier National League ball and the short right field at Wrigley Field.

A strong wind made conditions just right for the long hitters and as a result a total of thirteen home runs have been wuffed out of the field for the Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers. The Cubs won both games, pounding out an 8 to 1 decision yesterday although outlasted 16 to 14. As a result Chicago took the league lead.

Pittsburgh's game with the Phillies was rained out and the St. Louis Cardinals took their second straight from New York Giants 5 to 4. This combination of results gave the Pirates second place with New York and St. Louis tied for third, virtually tied with the Cubs but a few percentage points behind. Jim Mooney's relief pitching and clever base running by Pepper Martin and Joe Medwick gave the Cardinals their win.

Cincinnati Reds whipped the fifth-place Boston Braves 5 to 3. St. John held Boston to seven hits.

GEHRIG SENSATIONAL

Lou Gehrig put on a one-man show in the American League's headline game. Lou figured in every one of the New York Yankees' scoring spurts that brought them a 13 to 3 victory over Chicago White Sox, poling two home runs and two doubles to drive in seven runs before he retired after five innings.

Cleveland's Indians gave Boston a six-run start then came from behind to win 11 to 10 when Earl Averill and Joe Vosmik hit homers, each with two aboard.

Philadelphia Athletics gained a 5 to 3 victory over Detroit on a combination of four batters by Bob Johnson and Pinky Higgins. Since the Washington-St. Louis game was rained out, the A's tied the Senators for second place and Cleveland moved into fourth, passing the Tigers and Red Sox.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Another late-inning rally had given the rampaging Rochester Red Wings their tenth successive victory and turned the International League pennant struggle into a pursuit race to-day.

Checked by Johnny Milligan for seven innings, Red Wings burst forth with a five-run rally in the eighth that gave them a 6 to 2 decision over Albany Senators yesterday. They lead their closest rivals, Newark Bears, by five games.

Hal King's double with the bases loaded and Chad Himsey's seven-hit pitching featured Montreal Royals' 7 to 4 victory over Newark, Ben Sankey contributed a double and three singles to the attack.

Third-place Toronto Maple Leafs mopped up Baltimore Orioles 13 to 3. Max Rosenfeld clouted a homer with two on in the fourth for three Syracuse runs but Buffalo clouted out an 11 to 3 triumph in the other league game.

Wheat Prices Close At Day's Low Level

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, May 11.—After a bullish start, a natural reaction to climbing prices of the last few days set in at the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day and carried wheat quotations 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 down from top levels for net declines of 2 to 2 1/2 c.

Final figures were at the day's bottom levels, with May wheat quoted at 69 1/2, July 70 1/2, and October at 72 1/2 to 73 1/2 c.

The downturn was regarded as a healthy condition by the trade. It was pointed out export business this week has been comparatively small, due to rapidly mounting prices. The government agency was a noticeable seller.

Weather conditions throughout United States and western Canada remained bullish, but the effect on prices was minimized. A five-hour rain was reported in the Lethbridge district, however.

Chicago wheat had a similar trend to Winnipeg, dropping more than 1 1/2 c. Liverpool reflected North American strength Thursday with gains of 1/2 to 1 1/2 c.

Australian wheat shipments for the week amounted to only 851,000 bushels.

Cash grains were soft, while coarse grain prices eased with wheat.

The late setback was attributed largely to profit-taking due to the fact there had been an advance of 17 c. a bushel in wheat during the past fortnight. Predictions of showers were also an unsettling factor.

Wheat closed nervous at virtually the day's bottom level, 1 1/2 to 2 c net lower, July 87 1/2, to 87 3/4 c, corn 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 c down, oats 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 c off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 c.

Canadian Press

Toronto, May 11.—A drab session of industrial share market closed with a generally soft tone and with 85 per cent of the active stocks showing fractional losses.

Consolidated Smelters weakened a point and C.P.R. 1/2.

The distillery group closed slightly down while beer had fractional gains. Canadian Cement and Dredge were up half a point or more. Implement shares registered narrow gains and oils closed lower.

U.S. LOANS AT YEAR'S HIGH

Associated Press

Is Technique Of Courtship Wrong? Would Avoid Distillation After Marriage

IS THE technique of courtship all wrong? Is one of the reasons why so many husbands and wives complain of the disillusion and disappointment of marriage because during the days of courtship they have established in each other's mind an expectation of romance and sentiment that it is impossible to keep up after marriage?

They make of courtship a prolonged petting party. They never weary of assuring each other of their love. Each strives to outdo the other in making sacrifices and considering the other's pleasure and happiness. They assume virtues and charms that they do not possess. Butter wouldn't melt in even a hot-tempered girl's mouth, and the most selfish youth would not let his sweetheart even pick up a handkerchief. The boy swears to the girl that he considers her the most beautiful and intelligent and fascinating creature on earth, and the girl does not hesitate to tell the man that in her eyes he is a happy combination of Gladys, President Roosevelt and Henry Ford.

All of this is most delightful while it lasts. For all of us have a sweet tooth and crave gooey soft talk, and courtship is about the one bite of angel's food that we get during our entire lifetime. Also the explanation of why we married those who did it because they had led us to believe that whatever a dull and stupid world might think of us they perceived our true worth.

But the trouble with courtship is that the high hopes it inspires cannot possibly be realized. We cannot live long in the rarefied air of passion. We have got to come down to earth. There is nothing that we get fed up on quicker than we do on sentiment. It is like trying to live on a steady diet of chocolate creams. Kisses lose their flavor when they become part of the daily menu. No man or woman can stay perched on a pedestal all of the time. They are bound to fall off and become just plain, ordinary, faulty human beings in the home circle.

That's life. That's marriage. But courtship has not prepared the average couple who get married for it. They are aware that the husbands and wives they know do precious little billing and cooing, but they cherish the illusion that somehow they are going to be different, and that they are going to keep up the love-dovey business as long as they live.

And when these supermen find that they cannot deliver the goods, or that it doesn't quite come up to specifications, it makes for trouble. Especially among the women who have invested their all in it. When John slacks down on the love-making and expects Mary to take his affection for granted, and when he begins saying it with beefsteaks instead of orchids, Mary waits out the one who is supposed to love her. When Tom, who has assured Maud during courtship that her lily-white hand should never do aught but soothe his weary brow, expects her to make calluses on it by performing on the cookstove and the vacuum cleaner, Maud says hard and bitter things about matrimony not coming up to what it was pre-arranged to be.

And when John and Tom, who had honestly believed that Mary and Maud regarded them as God's masterpieces, find out that their wives, apparently do not approve of a single thing about them and want to change everything from the way they have their hair cut to their political opinions, they wonder what made them do it, and are all too prone to seek other ladies to whom they are not married and who still admire them.

Of course, to a large extent, this is Nature's fault. In the mating season even the birds grow finer feathers, and girls and boys put their best foot foremost, but it leads them into a lot of grief because they cannot live up to the glamorous illusions of courtship.

Another trouble about courtship is that we take it too seriously and make it too binding so that if a young couple gets engaged, or even supposed to have serious intentions regarding each other, it makes it difficult if either one changes his or her mind and wants to call the affair off. In reality, courtship should be the loosest of all possible ties between a man and woman. It should be no hard and fast bargain, but just a sort of option that gives each a chance to investigate the other and decide whether they want to make it a permanent trade or not.

Instead of trying, consciously or not, to deceive each other, the engaged couple should show themselves in their true colors. The girl who is high-tempered, the one who is extravagant and clothes mad, the one who is a born nag, who is bound to have her way about everything, should give the man a sample of her wares and let him see how he likes it. The man who is dictatorial or tyrannical or a tightwad should let the girl have a chance to see what she is letting herself in for if she marries him.

Perhaps if there were no honey in courtship there would be no romance and no thrill. Perhaps no girl would marry a man if he said to her when he proposed: "Mary, you are homely and you are not well-dressed and you have a rotten disposition, but such as you are I love you. I'm just a mediocre sort of a person myself. I'm selfish and will be hard to live with. Will you marry me, knowing me for what I am?"

But if the girl did marry him, that marriage would take and stick. She would know what she was getting. She wouldn't be getting a surprise package all done up in the pink chiffons of courtship that turned out to be something she didn't want when she got it home and took a good look at it.

Uncle Wiggily's Clover Shortcake

By HOWARD E. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily happened to be in the back kitchen door of his hollow stump bungalow that he was stirring something in a yellow bowl at the table. "Oh, never mind," quipped the muskrat lady housekeeper. "What's the matter, Mr. Longears? Are the Bad Chaps after you?"

"There may be one Bad Chap chasing me," said the rabbit gentleman, as he slammed the door shut and locked it. "It's the Wolf. Wolf Nurse Jane like the funny lady in the movies. 'Whatever we do to do!'"

"I don't really believe he is following me," said Uncle Wiggily. "I will take a look through the keyhole and if I see him you can telephone for the Police Dog."

"I see you brought the door," said Uncle Wiggily when all was peace and quiet in the kitchen.

"Yes," answered the rabbit gentleman. "And it's a good thing you left your door closed, because I was locking the door in the bottom of the bag when you gave it to me."

"Why?" asked the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Because when the Wolf came at me as I was gathering clover," said the bunny gentleman. "I banged him over the head with the bag and he fell in the bottom of the bag on his nose, to speak plainly it was perfectly safe."

"You can't be polite to a Wolf," said the muskrat lady.

"No," answered Uncle Wiggily. "I don't believe you can. Anyway, I brought your sock and the rabbit back and here are a lot of clover leaves and blossoms. What are you making?" he asked as he looked at the rabbit's work.

"I am making the dough part of the clover shortcake," Miss Fussy Wussy answered.

"Well, don't make it too short," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "Always had to say this at shortcake time. The Wolf is so fat, long enough so there will be some for all the family."

"I will," promised Nurse Jane. "And now you don't mind, I wish you would kindly get out of my kitchen."

"All right," said the rabbit gentleman. As Uncle Wiggily's summer fur coat was rather stuck up with briars and sticky burs, which had clung to him when he hopped fast through the woods and over the fields to get away from the Wolf, he went up in the bath room to comb him self out.

Nurse Jane, with the help of Mrs. Longears, the rabbit lady, made a fine salad of the clover leaves and a lovely shortcake of the red clover blossoms.

Soon it was time for supper. Baby Bunty and all the little children came trooping in from their play after school as hungry as hungry bears. Mr. Longears and his wife also were hungry. They all sat down to the table and Nurse Jane served fried carrots, broiled cabbage, friedseed parsnips and the clover leaf salad.

"And now for the red clover shortcake!" cried Uncle Wiggily when it was time for dessert. "Bring it in, Nurse Jane."

Uncle Wiggily said "Ah!" His wife said "Oh!" and all the little bunny children said "Yum Yum!" when they saw that shortcake. Mr. Longears cut it, gave each one a piece and there was still half a cake left when he rang for Nurse Jane to take it back to the kitchen. "Help yourself to some, Jane," he said. "And then we'll all have a second helping."

"All right," answered Miss Fussy Wussy. "When the Wolf came into the kitchen, all of a sudden she heard a knock at the door. Thinking it might be Mrs. Twistytail, she opened the door and there was Uncle Wiggily. 'We want Uncle Wiggily,' they howled."

"Take the Wolf's head," instead," begged Nurse Jane. She handed the Bad Chaps what she had stolen. Of course he was hungry any more so they went away and didn't bother the bunny. Of course he was sorry there was no more shortcake than short of ears."

"Do everything came out all right. And if the door knob doesn't turn around so fast that it makes the keyhole think it's riding on a roller, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's squirrel gun."

Chemainus

Chemainus, May 11.—Chemainus Y.P.U. met at the home of Mrs. A. B. Atwood on Tuesday, Miss Mabel Cook presiding. The Scripture reading was given by Roy Ward. At the next meeting Garth Quinn will be the speaker. It was announced that H. E. Heslip had consented to address the meeting May 22. A pleasing feature of the meeting was a presentation by Miss Cook, on behalf of the young people, of a gift, to the secretary-treasurer, Billy Atwood, the occasion being his nineteenth birthday.

At the conclusion of business a surprise party was given Billy Atwood. Games, contests and competitions were enjoyed and musical selections were rendered by Miss Myrtle McGladrey and Garth Quinn. Prize-winners were Miss Myrtle McGladrey, Miss Gladys Cook, Dick Waller and Hamilton Baillie. Supper was served by Mrs. Atwood, assisted by Mrs. Heslip.

The last of a series of whist drives and old-time dances, given under the patronage of Chemainus Women's Benefit Association No. 19, was held Tuesday evening in the Knights of Pythias Hall. Prize-winners were Ladies, first, Mrs. Luescombe; consolation, Mrs. Wylie; gentlemen, first, Allan Porter; consolation, James Webster; lucky chair, Miss Muriel Radcliff and David Cook. Special prizes for highest score during the season were won by Mrs. Walter Laidlaw with 940 points, and James Cook with 945 points. A smoker's stand was won by George Lepper.

The president, on behalf of the review, presented gifts to Charles Baker and Frank Work for their services during the season. Refreshments were served by the social committee and dancing followed.

A cruise of more than 7,000 miles and return is planned by President Roosevelt to start late next month, over the route pictured in the map, starting at Annapolis, going to the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico, thence through the Panama Canal and across the Pacific to Honolulu. The Navy's new 10,000-ton cruiser Indianapolis, shown above, is the president's likely choice for the trip.

CUTTER'S CREW GIVEN PRAISE

Capt. A. F. Haines of Seattle Says Men of Redwing Should Be Honored

"I will recommend to shipping interests in Seattle that the men of the coastguard cutter Redwing, which towed the battered Norwegian freighter Childar from the mouth of the Columbia River to Cape Flattery last week, be given recognition for their daring and seamanship," stated Capt. H. F. Haines, president of the Washington Tug and Barge Company, who was in Victoria yesterday to inspect the disabled freighter.

Capt. Haines was loud in his praise of Lieut. Arthur W. Davis, commander of the Redwing, and the members of his crew. They performed an outstanding feat of seamanship in the rescue of the Childar and her survivors, he said.

"In the thirty years I have been towing I have never seen a finer example of bravery and skill," Capt. Haines said. "The Redwing is not much larger than the commercial tugs on the coast, and yet she went out over the Columbia River bar in a fifty-mile gale and saved the lives of those gallant Norwegians aboard the Childar. Commercial tugs in the Columbia were unable to get out of the river because of the storm and dangerous bar."

SHOWED BRAVERY
Capt. Haines also gave praise to the coastguard lifesaving crew from the stations at Point Adams and Cape Disappointment, who removed the injured men from the freighter. They showed great bravery, he said.

"But the Redwing's feat in removing eighteen members of the Childar's crew was one of the finest examples of seamanship in the history of the Pacific Coast," Capt. Haines said.

The Childar was delivered to Esquimalt in fairly good condition, Capt. Haines said, considering the terrific hammering she received from the gale at sea. Capt. Haines's company is the owner of the tugs Roosevelt and Childar in low from the Redwing at the entrance to the Straits last Sunday afternoon, and towed the disabled ship into Esquimalt Harbor.

SEATTLE TRIP IS ARRANGED

The first excursion of the year to Seattle will be held on Thursday, May 24, when the St. Princess Elizabeth will take the trip, according to an announcement made this morning.

The Elizabeth will leave the Belleville Pier in the morning at 9 o'clock and will reach Seattle at 1 o'clock. Four hours will be given the visitors in the Puget Sound metropolis and the return journey will be commenced at 5 o'clock, arrival at Victoria being posted for 9:30 o'clock in the evening.

On the same day the St. Princess Marguerite will bring an excursion party from Vancouver to Victoria, close to 1,000 persons should come to Victoria for the May 24 festivities which will be held here.

COACH LINES TO RUN EXCURSIONS

The Vancouver Island Coach Lines will inaugurate low-priced excursions to points of interest on the island with two excursions next Sunday—one along the Sooke Highway to Whiffen Spit and the other to Cowdara Bay and Mount Douglas Park.

It is the intention of the Coach Lines to run a weekly excursion to Sooke.

A special excursion is announced for May 24 to Nanaimo. This will give the excursionists the whole afternoon in Nanaimo, where a sleigh-chase, horse races and equestrian events are planned.
